Shaping School Policies, Regulating Academic

Serving the Warren Township school system are Mr. Austin E. Walker, Superintendent of the Metropolitan School District of Warren Township, Assistant Superintendent Mr. Edward H. Cuddy, and members of the School Board. These work diligently to prepare for each school year, and to handle all problems arising during the year.

After a brief, but relaxing, summer vacation, this administrative body settles into a work routine that demands their best at all times. Major problems are discussed and decisions made which seemingly benefit everyone concerned.

The arrival of fall signifies a return to school for students, but to the administration it brings more problems and more worries which must be overcome. This small group of men must determine the approximate enrollment for all elementary schools, the junior high schools Creston and Woodview, and Warren Central. Acting upon this knowledge, the School Board decides upon the number of teachers needed, and how many desks will be placed in each room. Another problem they face is bus procurement and bus scheduling. Not only are buses on a continual time clock delivering students to different schools at different times, but the board must also present them with a map of their routes so the drivers can pick up every student, yet not exceeding the number of pupils that the law permits.

New classes also present a special task to the administration. A philosophy class originated this year, so new textbooks were required. A certain number of regular class texts were also beyond use, so to provide each student with his required book, the Board ordered new ones for each academic course offered.

One major issue presented the Board was the problem of the dress code. Continuing basically with last year's decision, a revision was made which permitted all girls to wear dress slacks or pantsuits without written permission, however, no compromise was reached concerning beards and sideburn length. A protest by the students after the County Tourney was also ably handled by the administration. Service to the community was the primary goal for the administration, and experience has shown this practice to be the deciding factor in all controversies.

Courses Keeps Administration Busy Full Year

(Right) Helping Mr. Piety with his duties are the assistant principals, Mr. Clifford Gates and Mr. Scott Chandler.

Is Chief Goal For Office, Guidance Personnel

All school activities dealing with Warren students were directly or indirectly channeled through the main office. Days and times of club meetings were also decided here.

Time allotments for homeroom, lunch periods, and regular classes were decided upon by the administrative staff, and bells were planned and directed by the office. All announcements were placed in their final form here, and delivered over the Public Address System, as were morning devotions. Also programmed through the main office were times and directions for fire drills.

Serving for the first time as principal of WC was Mr. Obert Piety. His year saw many athletic victories and revisions in school policy. All students will remember him as a fine man, while seniors will recall his firm, encouraging handshake at graduation.

More closely linked to the student body than the main office, guidance personnel assisted the students in preparing for the future. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were able to plan a class schedule geared to their own individual needs. As usual, many counselors were busy helping students, particularly seniors, in preparing for future life either in college or in an immediate vocational position. Helping 1971 graduates decide on a college and then working to meet the entrance requirements was a time consuming but rewarding task. Some counselors even participated in delivering the SAT and Achievement Tests to interested students.

Personal records were also kept on file in the guidance office. These records are used to recommend students for jobs, and serve as information on academic accomplishments.

Combined Councils Strive For Unity

Serving the entire student body are the Senior Council, the Junior Council, and the Student Council. The individual duties of these three groups vary, yet all possess the same goal—to act as a middle ground between the students and the administration.

Responsibilities for planning graduation activities lie with the Senior Council. It is this body which must plan the senior prom site, the senior picnic, cap and gown rentals, and the graduation cards and announcements. The Senior Council is the voice of the 1971 class, as it must also decide on the class colors and the class motto.

Junior Council acts in the interest of the junior class. Similar to the Senior Council, the group represents each junior homeroom through its two members, male and female. The Junior Council handles junior prom arrangements and sponsors the March "Turn-about" dance.

Equality in representation of all students can be seen most clearly in the make-up of the Student Council. Each homeroom is allowed one delegate and one alternate to the council. It is in this council that sophomores gain the experience which can prove invaluable in following years as each new junior and senior council is organized.

Honor Society, Hi-C Benefit WCHS

The Warren Central Chapter of the National Honor Society, supervised by Mr. Herbert Korra, remains a productive, informative, and important organization throughout the year. Through Honor Society, students develop an increasing awareness toward people, their community, and their world.

One way for students to increase their knowledge is through forums. These forums deal with many, varied and interesting topics, with guest speakers leading the discussions. Not only do Honor Society members increase their personal knowledge, but they also impart some of their information to others. Any student at Warren Central desiring help in a class merely contacts the NHS member in charge of tutor scheduling, and is then provided with a helper, or tutor.

Academic accomplishments are not always predominant, however, as fun and usefulness appear in the annual spaghetti supper. Oversized chef hats can be seen rising above the crowd as members participate in the organization and execution of the project. Funds appropriated from the dinner are used toward the scholarship presented by the Warren chapter to a deserving senior.

Much like Honor Society, Hi-C Club is a service organization. Several convocations arranged by Hi-C members included messages from All-American football player Bill Glass, former night club entertainer Dave Boyer, and folksinger Tim Ayres.

Hi-C is associated with Youth For Christ. Many parties and projects of Hi-C members stem from the attempt to give life a meaning and a purpose, and to give youth a reason for existence.

One worthwhile activity is the Feed-a-Family project at Christmas. Warren students are asked to donate money, canned food, and any other household articles which may prove useful to the needy family.

Providing a few moments of meditation in the morning is the Hi-C Devotions Committee. These people play thought-provoking and meaningful music followed by a quiet poem which makes each student pause to reflect on his inner self and emotions before continuing his daily routine.

Warrenettes, FNA Serve Community

Service to one's school and community continues to play a vital role in the maturing of high school girls. Sophomore, junior, and senior girls learn to grow mentally in Warrenettes as they combine individual talents to achieve set goals. Throughout the year, this girls' service organization plans activities that will benefit its members, as well as the surrounding community. The annual Valentine Tea displays the young ladies' ability for correct judgment and creativity. Future Nurses of America is responsible for preparing interested girls for tomorrow's world of nursing. Through experience, the members of FNA learn the basic fundamentals and requirements needed in a member of the nursing profession. The Heart Board, another service organization, demonstrates Warren Central's concern in the struggle against heart diseases. The many service clubs at Warren Central constantly radiate the preparation and skill necessary in order to meet the changing world of tomorrow.

Homeroom Begins A Warrenite's Day

From 8:00 through 8:45 a.m., students are enrolled in homeroom. As newly arrived sophomores learn the homeroom period is one in which they will learn about Warren and where the indoctrination of school policy is performed.

Speaking practically, the homeroom period was designed to aid the student in much the same manner as a teacher is granted a preparation hour sometime during the day. Homeroom is also the time when extra-curricular organizations meet. Much planning by the administration is needed before a schedule of clubs can be arranged which would avoid time conflict with other groups. For this reason, all councils meet on Wednesday, as all other similarly related activities meet on their respective days.

During the athletic season, pep sessions are scheduled to boost school spirit and team morale. Often, these gatherings occur during the homeroom period. It is also possible to shorten homeroom in order to plan a pep session near the end of the school day. This latter procedure is most frequently used for convocation scheduling.

Many students, due to lack of study halls, homework, or no club meeting on a particular day, find refuge in the media center. Acting upon a ruling from media center personnel, recreational reading materials are now available to pupils during homeroom. Reports, research papers, special assignments, and other activities headline the need for all students to utilize the center during any available time slot.

English Classes Test New Ideas Plus Techniques

Teaching methods and techniques varied according to the teacher, but the English Department also underwent a policy change. Innovations previously untried were experimented and proved successful. One such change was the additional books placed on the required reading list.

Composing a research paper produced various reactions among junior and senior English classes, but always resulted in more knowledge and more experience for the student. Grammatical English and literature were two areas covered extensively in this department throughout the year.

Annual Yule Tudor Madrigal Dinner, Sequoya

Literature Club Provide Outlets For Creativity

A highlighting event for Warren's English Department remained the annual Tudor-Madrigal Dinner, so named because of its reference to the Tudor Era. An evening of festivities was provided, with a court jester serving as master of ceremonies.

Arrayed in Elizabethan dress, the junior and senior English students began their evening with a candlelight procession through the halls of Warren. An imitation suckling pig, warm "ale", and a song of welcome proceded the dinner. The Madrigals performed while a strolling minstrel heightened the effect of an Old English banquet.

Warren Central's annual publication of the Sequoya, provides an opportunity for the students to exercise their creativity as writers of poetry, essays, and short stories. Sponsored by Mr. Shortz, the Sequoya, is a collection of writings by students who wish to express themselves on paper. Any student writing a paper which his English teacher thinks is exceptionally well done, submits the paper to Sequoya, and the most outstanding are selected for the publication. It is an honor as well as a privilege for an individual to find his efforts in print.

Communications Area Reveals Individual Aims

Communication . . . the only way to understanding. Understanding is the word that challenged many students as they studied the "hows" and "whys" of the areas involved in communication. The Warren Central Communications Center had the great task of gathering and reporting various news media in an objective manner. Two publication staffs shared the communications area with a newly-formed radio station to provide an interesting variation in the presentation of local, and state, national, and international news. Beginning journalism pupils quickly became skilled in the art of writing, as they grew anxious to earn a position on the school's newspaper, The WARREN OWL, or the yearbook, The WIGWAM. During the 1970-71 school year, the United Press International machine was added to the communications center. From telling what the weather was like in Tokyo, to reporting a presidential conference in Washington, the radio station WEDM, made constant use of the UPI machine making Warren pupils more fully aware of the surrounding world. Speech courses orientated students to the proper methods in addressing people. Those who reported the news and the highlights of the year, related it in a manner as not to become redundant of past years, but making 1971 a year with its own characteristics, presenting new and challenging goals for the Warren Central youth.

Wigwam Staff Aims For Quality Book

"This picture needs cropping. My preliminaries aren't finished. We need three pictures for the Business spread, and I don't have any req. sheets! My envelope is finally ready for shipping!" All of these unfamiliar, garbled phrases are commonly heard in the Communications Center near deadline time.

Working under the basic principle of cooperation, the Wigwam staff has completed the school year and the yearbook with the normal amount of hardships, difficulties, and, of course, the satisfaction of a job "well done."

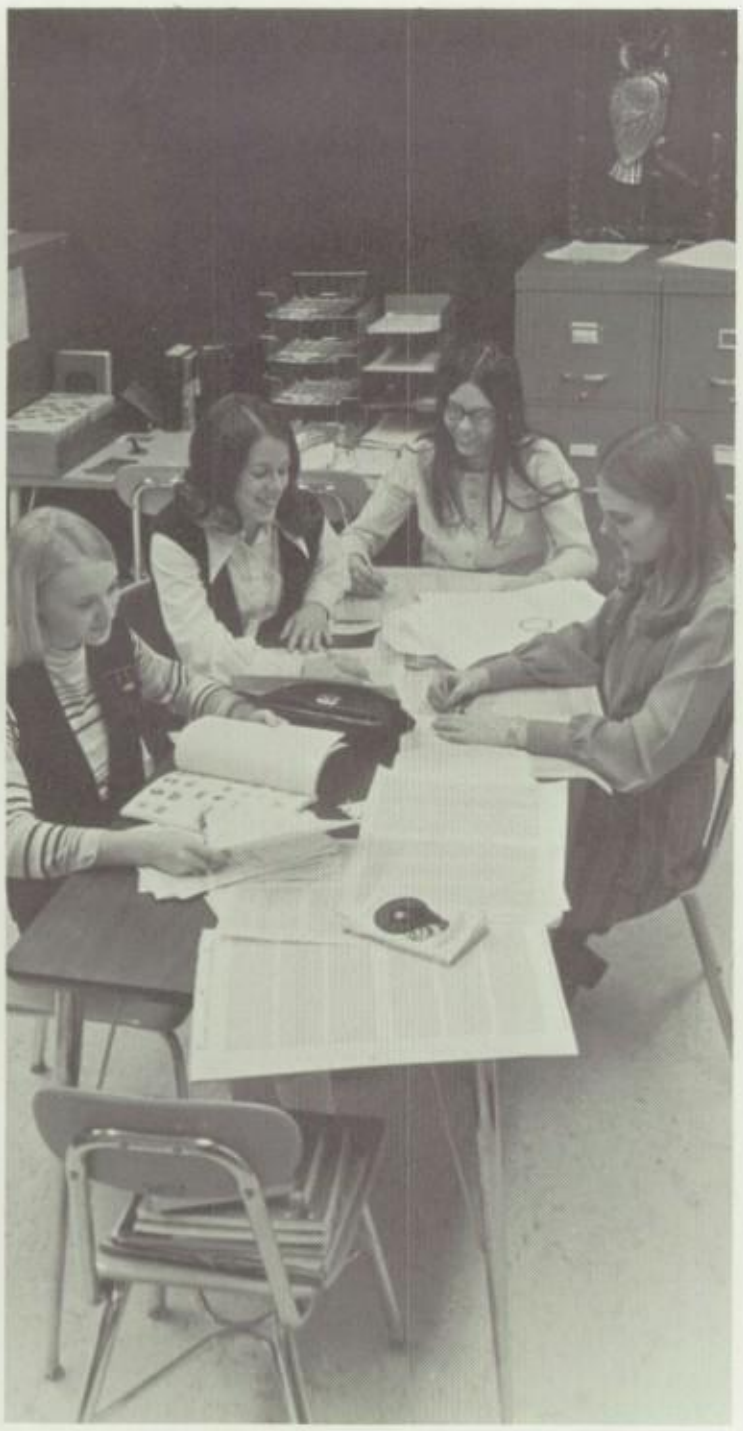
The primary responsibility of each member of the yearbook staff is to meet pressing deadlines while concentrating on conforming with new styles, keeping accurate records, and working to create a lasting memento of students' years at Warren Central.

The 1971 Wigwam, using twice the normal amount of colored pictures, is employing an unusual, contemporary five-column dominant mosaic layout style in order to obtain more eye appeal, and consequently capture as well as retain reader interest. The Wigwam has undergone constant changes in order to please readers and avoid the stagnation so easily accomplished in high school yearbook production.

Along with yearbook production the staff works on underclass picture sales, the Wigwam subscription campaign, Owl deliveries each Friday, and scheduling and taking organizational pictures. Rarely is a staff member at a loss for something to keep him occupied.

Reluctantly in the Spring, Senior staff members relinquish their positions at the annual Journalism Banquet while the new staff begins preparation for the next Wigwam.

Each staff member works to achieve a book filled with lasting memories for the individual students of Warren Central.



Quill and Scroll and the Wigwam are important traditions at Warren Central. Owl Aims For Journalistic Perfection

Throughout the school year the Warren Owl has gone through a series of modernizations and modifications in order to provide the students with a media which is closer to the individual. Changes were particularly necessary for the weekly paper in order that it may compete with the newly-installed radio in news and feature coverage.

The newspaper was lengthened to six pages per issue in an attempt to give more feature coverage to the student. An interesting innovation in the paper's make-up was the initiation of downstyle headline type to give the newspaper a much more modernized look.

While striving for journalistic perfection Owl staff members attended various journalism workshops at summer college sessions. Claudia Chambers brought significant honors to Warren in being chosen second in competition for a journalism scholarship.

Furthering the list of Warren accomplishments is the growing amount of material the staff members print in newspapers outside the Owl. Over 1500 column inches of news media was printed in newspapers throughout Indianapolis during the 1970-71 school year. Mary Besinger's establishment as a regularly-paid journalist working for a commercial paper was an added accomplishment for the Owl staff. Throughout the year, the Owl and staff won many awards at various press days and journalism workshops where different facets of the publication were highly praised, as well as the abilities of the staff members.

In its role as informer, educator, and mediator, the Owl has successfully functioned for the Warren student body and administration. Individuality in makeup, function, and purpose has firmly established the Warren Owl as a creative and distinctive publication.

Speech Skills Important To NFL, Radio Staff

MR. ROGER COOK—BS, Indiana University; Public Speaking, Speech Arts; Debate Coach.

MR. RICHARD L. SHARP—BS, Indiana University; MS, Indiana University; Speech; NFL Coach.

A few years ago the idea of a Warren Central radio station was beginning to form. After much discussion and a wait for the finish of the communications center, it was decided to begin programming during the 1970-71 school year.

All students wanting to be on radio staff first semester took a summer school course taught by Mr. Nick Sanders, the staff adviser. The staff learned the basics of radio broadcasting and how important their particular job was to the function of a good radio station.

NFL or National Forensic League is a popular organization at Warren. Skills in speech as well as debate are practiced and perfected before each meet. Many times a member of the speech team is asked to get up at 5:30 a.m. to attend a meet. Ribbons are won by many participating members and are brought home for inspection in the display case. The Debate Team has done exceptionally well sending Billie Seward and Frank Harshey to the national debate contest. Warren Central is truly proud of its Speech and Debate team.

Drama Department Encourages Talent

Dramatics classes, taught by Mr. Thomas Feit, learn the basics of acting, in addition to stage presentation. Almost any time you enter a drama class, you'll find several students from the class acting out impromptu scenes, while the remainder of the class observes and offers critical comment. Dramatics class helps the student to acquire poise, self confidence and grace.

Dramatics Club encourages the budding actors and actresses of Warren to participate in dramatics to help develop their talents. The Club's activities include field trips to Clowes Hall to see professional productions, and attending seminars which help to broaden their knowledge of the theater.

Thespians is an honorary club, sponsored by Mr. Feit. To become a member of this club, points must be earned by participating as either an actor in one of the plays or on one of the stage crews. Thespians perform a play each year, and the proceeds go for more props and additional equipment needed for the plays and musicals. In the spring they also sponsor a one-act play festival, in which students may organize their own plays and then audition. After the plays have been presented, awards are given to the most outstanding.

Spring Musical, Class Production Highlight Of Year

In the spring of 1970, the combined efforts of the dramatics and music departments, plus the great effort displayed by many students, produced the annual musical, this year's being "Bye Bye Birdie." David Dean and Carol Horton held the starring roles of Conrad Birdie and Rosey.

Performing in the Senior Class Play, "Up The Down Staircase," were Patti Catron as Miss Barrett and Ray Higgins as Joe Ferone. This was the story of a teacher new to the profession and her accompanying problems.

Another segment of the productions are the behind-the-scenes stage crews. Organized completely by the students, they hold the responsibility of props, costumes, make-up, publicity and ushers.

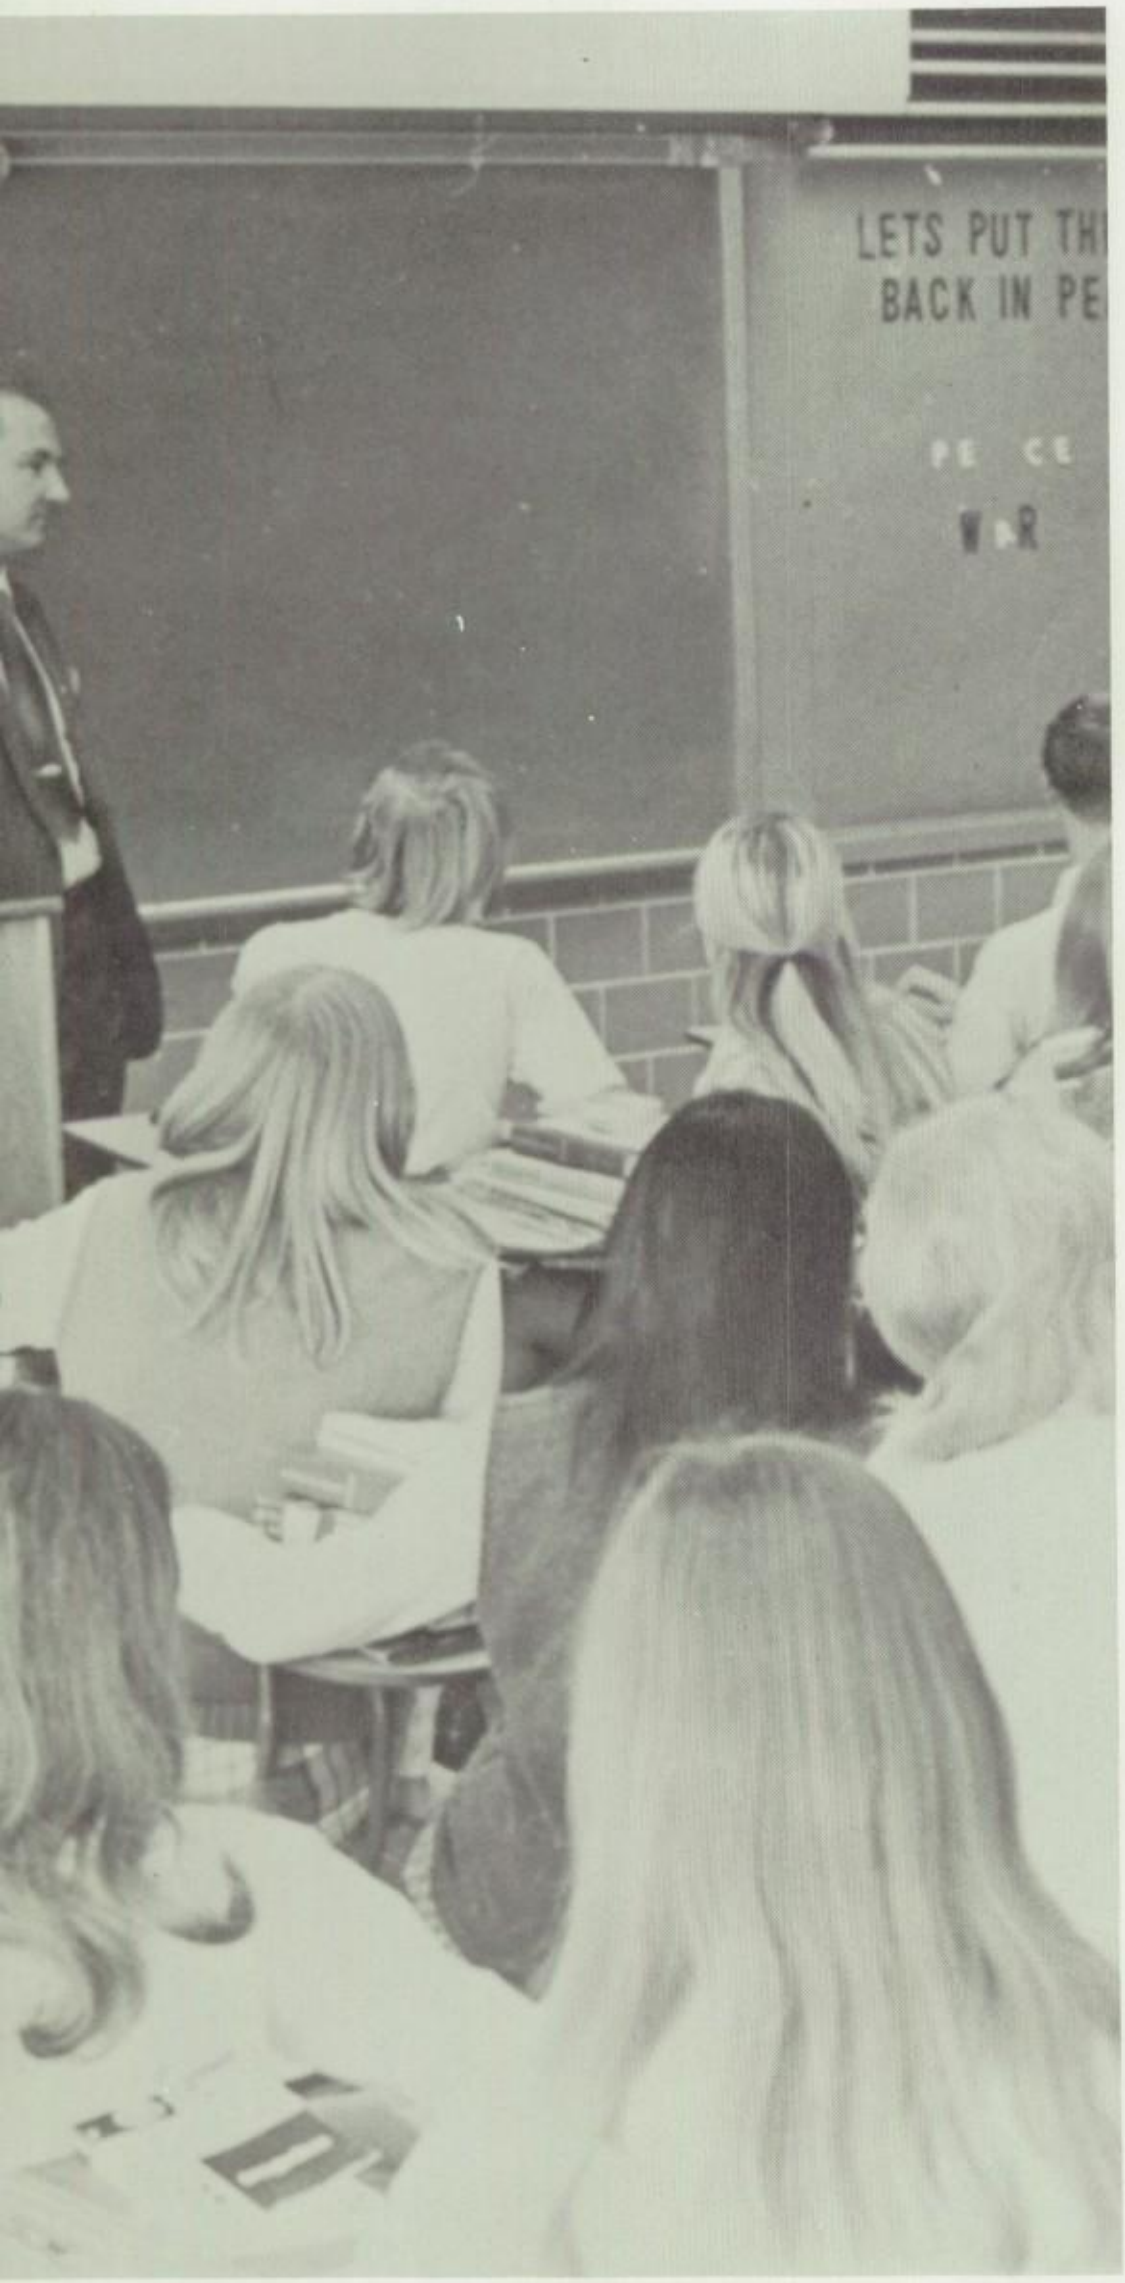
Showing Interest In Concentration, Discussion



The purpose of the Chess Club is to provide interesting competition for those who like to play. Each member helps the other players with new and difficult moves while competing among themselves. This prepares the team for inter-school play.

To fulfill this purpose the club is a member of the Central Indiana Chess Association which makes them eligible for eight inter-school matches. Warren's Chess Club also competes in the state tournament. The tournament is the highlight of the year for chess players.

Philosophy, a new course added to Warren's social studies curriculum, was designed by Mr. George Feldman and Mr. Philip Douglas to fit the needs of students. A period in history is then discussed including the men and their philosophies. Each philosopher and his philosophy is broken down and analyzed through class discussion. The grading system is based on two opinions instead of one which makes a more accurate final grade. Instead of a final exam each student is required to write a term paper.

Social Studies Broaden Each Outlook

Social studies classes, individually-oriented at Warren Central, are required of all students.

Where one student may enjoy the exploration of the individuals in a psychology class, another may prefer the study of groups of people, as in a sociology session. Government, a course required for seniors, makes an intense study of the political and economic systems of the United States and other countries. The U. S. History class, which is a required course for juniors, deals with the founding and development of America. The newly added philosophy class yields numerous opportunities for qualified pupils to study their outlooks on life.

Family living, another social studies course, offers guidance and suggestions to senior students in preparation for adulthood.

Other classes offered includes world history, world geography, and international relations.

Each of these classes highlights the social studies role in preparing young adults for a dynamic and ever-changing world.

(Above) Mr. Whitmoyer's International Relations students discuss the difficult problems that not only confront our nation, but also involve the entire world. (Above Right) Seniors discover the basic concepts that involve the United States government as they learn to appreciate the fundamentals of America's heritage. FTA, Exploratory Teaching Extend Chance To Discover Possible Career

Future Teachers of America, who are affectionately known as FTA, exist for any student interested in being a teacher. The club plans meetings and other activities for the year. All exploratory teachers are required to join the club.

Tuesday through Friday the students who were in classroom 206 on Monday transferred roles to play the part of the teacher. Going their separate ways, exploratory teachers depart to the elementary schools and junior high schools in Warren Township. The main objective is to see if the senior enrolled in the class desires to pursue a teaching career after high school. These students must take on the responsibility of arranging their own transportation. Beyond these initial responsibilities are the necessities of cooperating with the teacher.

Some of the young bestow gifts upon their student teachers, but the best reward the exploratory teacher received was a feeling of accomplishment and lasting friendships.

With the fun of the course also comes some complications. These students often miss club activities and several convocations.

At the end of the semester, the exploratory teachers are allowed to go back to any class they desire to spend an entire day.

(Above) Warren boys relax in their spare time, while taking advantage of the convenient recreational reading facilities. (Above Right) Magazines are an important reference material for term papers and research projects. Debbie Sturges happily found the WCHS Media Center has a wide variety of periodicals from which to choose. (Right) With ID and borrowed books in hand, Warrenites wait patiently to check out books. (Far Right) Higher book shelves can be a task for the shorter Warren students to reach, however, with help from a friend it is not so difficult.

Books, A-V Equipment Aid Students In Utilizing Full Research Capacities

The combination of the Audio-Visual Department and the library has been of great benefit to Warrenites. The Media Center has functioned for two years and has proven well worthwhile. Now a student does not only have books, magazines, and extensive files to refer to, but also Warrenites have microfilm, records, and film strips. This factor not only adds a larger bibliography to a term paper, but also makes the paper much more interesting to the researcher.

Conference rooms may be used by students who desire individual or group study. In this way a discussion may go on without the disruption of other students, yet reference materials remain close at hand.

With assistance from the Media Center Committee, the librarians have attempted to improve facilities for Warren students. Study hall tecahers are now allowed to sign Media Center cards and arrangements have been made for students without a study hall.

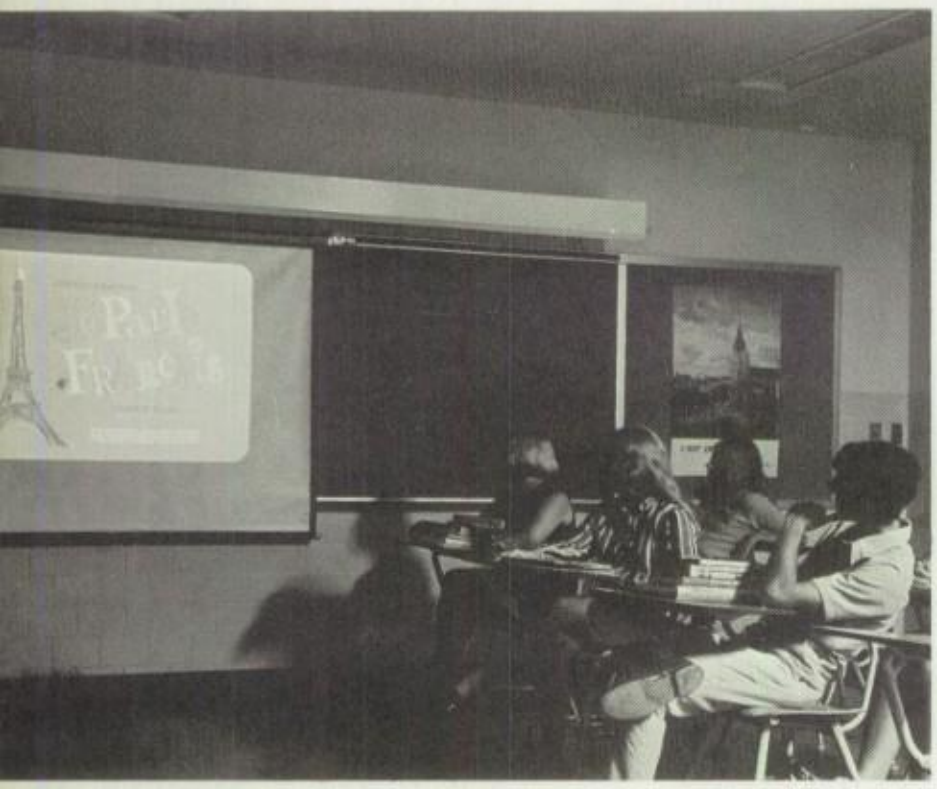
The busiest time of year for the Media Center is term paper time. With many students researching similar subjects, materials sometimes becomes scarce, even with the vast amount of sources which may be found in the Media Center.

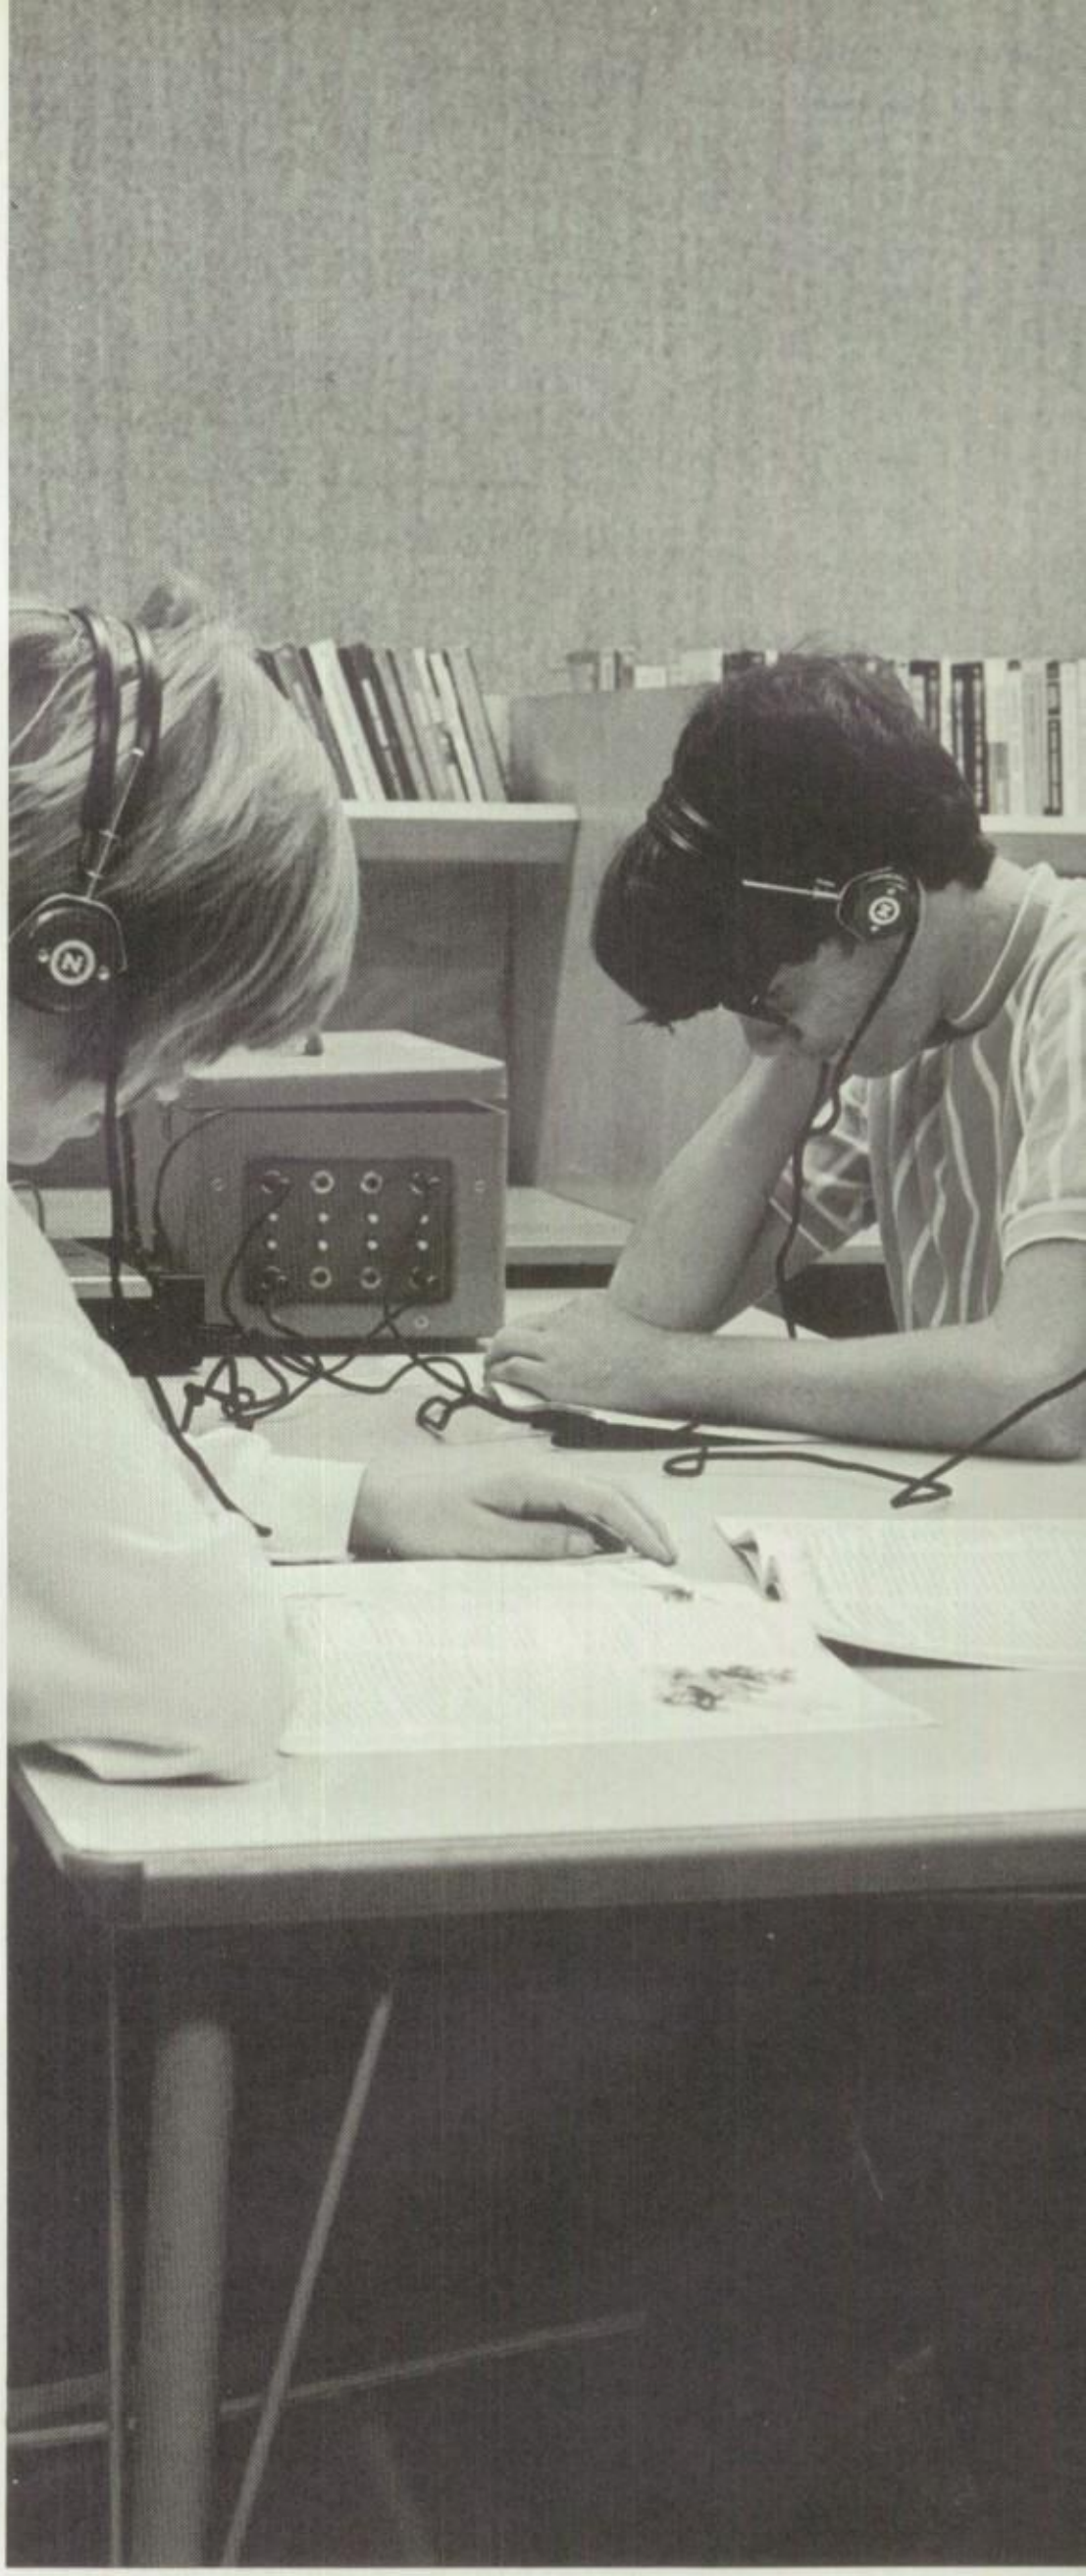
In all facets the Warren Central Media Center serves the individual Warren student in achieving his goals, whether they be for research, recreational reading, or pure literary development. Throughout the student's life the library serves as an important stimulus for individuality.

Foreign Studies Interest Students, Promote Good Will

The Foreign Language Department offers many varied and interesting methods for learning. Students participate in class recitations, lead in discussion groups, view films made in different countries, and generally learn the art of cooperation and openness with each other. Headed by Miss Pullin, the department strives to introduce the students to other cultures and mannerisms found in the world.

Mr. VanBuskirk not only teaches English, but also helps the slower readers to develop faster learning skills. Through the aid of many useful and available audio facilities, these students enable themselves to better their reading and comprehension to a level comparable to that of their peers.





(Above) Third year French students often retreat to the mystical, magical land of "la belle France" through interesting and educational films. (Center) Audio equipment, such as tapes and earphones, provide an excellent learning method for remedial reading students. French Students Honored Nationally; Spanish Club Float Champions Again

Trying to understand another person without being able to communicate properly creates great problems. So it is with attempting to understand other nations without some knowledge of their language, nationality, characteristics, and customary habits. These are some of the goals of the foreign language department.

Courses in Latin, German, French and Spanish are offered at Warren and are filled to capacity with eager students participating in first, second, and third year courses.

Although Latin is not spoken today except in a few isolated cases, by studying it, we find that many of the words contained in our language are derived from it. In this way we learn the exact meaning of some words and how they have evolved through the past centuries.

Students who have distinguished themselves in some way in the French and Spanish languages are recognized by their membership in the French National Honor Society and the newly awarded positions in the Spanish National Honor Society.

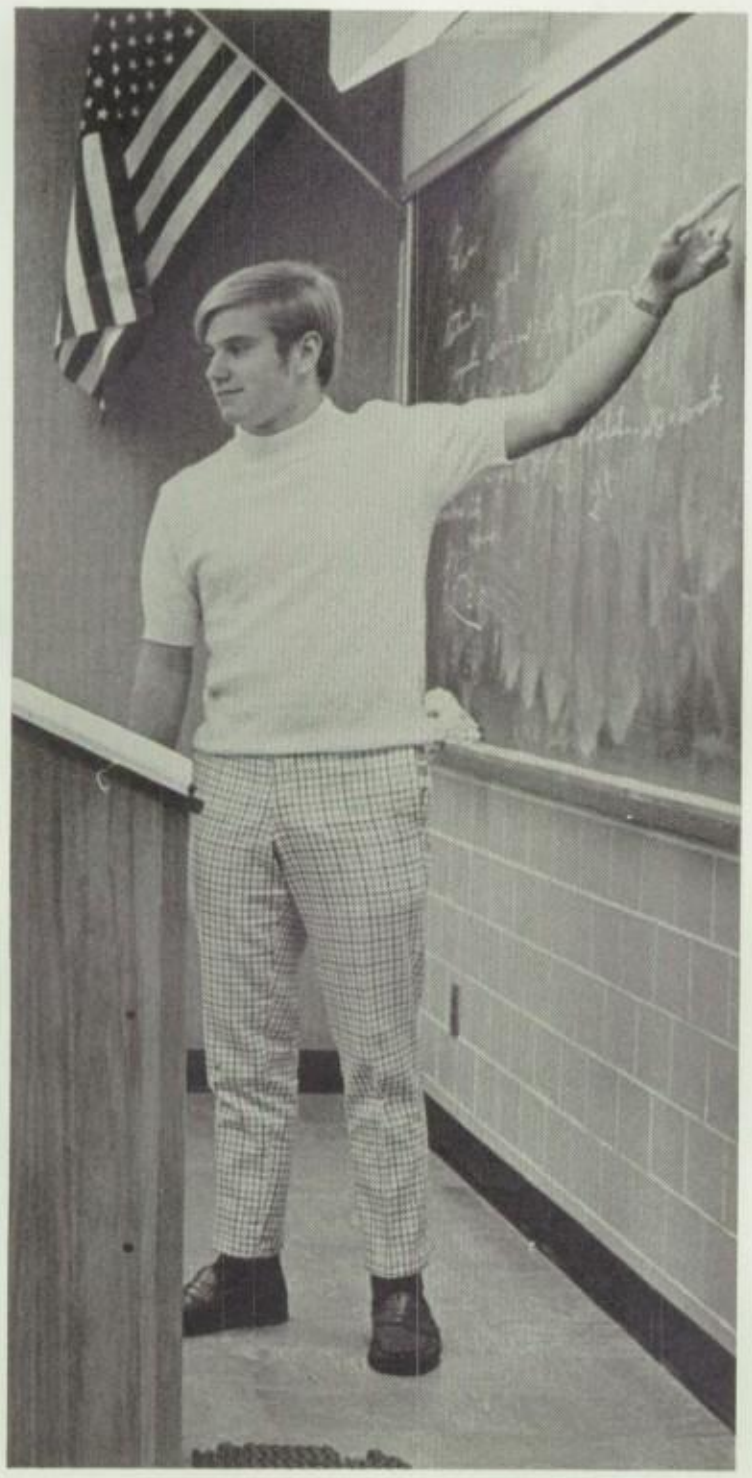
Mathematics Tests Students' Abilities



Algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, and computer math classes direct the students' minds toward more logical thinking. The power to reason and to arrive at a solution mathematically is attained through diligence and hard work by the students, and expert teaching skills on the part of the faculty.

Regardless of the students' future occupations, math will play an essential role in that field. Engineers, mechanics, and housewives recognize the need for a sound basis in their mathematical abilities. To reach out and to grasp the world of tomorrow requires determination and a knowledge of fundamental math concepts.

Alcohol, Narcotics Class Introduced;

From Biology and Earth Science to Physics and Physiology, Warren students discover the various fields of science offered by the Science Department.

This year attention has been turned to the problems of ecology and pollution. This relates the classes more closely to the life of the student, since the solution to the problem will affect each individual's future life.

Alcohol and Narcotics is the newest addition to the Science curriculum. The purpose of the class is to educate the students about the harms of these and to discourage their use.

Scientific Clubs, Narcotics Course Creates Interest

Biology, the Study of Life. What subject could be studied better and with such practical application? Is there another subject that is so everpresent and continuous as life itself? Today's students will be tomorrow's leaders and what better way to prepare for tomorrow than to discover what is involved in the life processes that continually go on within one's self? Biology club, a nationally sponsored organization, strives to bring the material beyond the scope of the textbook and make the subject useful to as many Warren students as is possible. All that is asked of the student is an interest and his cooperation.

Knowing that today's world is becoming more technologically supported every year, the Science Club tries to acquaint Warrenites with the basic scientific functions. Warren students will share in the discoveries of tomorrow; with the preparations they receive from such clubs, they will achieve wonders in their chosen fields.

To inform today's students about the ever-present danger of drug abuse, Warren Central has added to its curriculum a new course concerning Narcotics. With the addition of this new line of study, Warren is up-to-date on current problems.

(Far Left) The officers of the Biology Club are in charge of all activities concerning the organization. The officers include Jeff Weghorst, Jeff Reel, and Beth Spencer. Home Ec, FHA Serve, Aid WC Body, Community

Home Economics deals exclusively in teaching students proper management of the home. Traditionally, care of the home is designated to females, however, Boys Foods, already in its second year, has gained in popularity and enrollment.

To promote interest in this department, FHA was offered to any student wishing to examine further and in more detail the economics involved in managing and directing a home.

Offered in the Home Economics Department are informative classes in Child Care, Sewing, Housing, Consumer Buying, and Home Nursing. The knowledge and the skills acquired in these home improvement classes are invaluable as Warren students begin the most important phase of their life—creating their own home life in the new world which awaits them after graduation.

Music Department Is Multi-Faceted

"Music—the international language." "Whatever else which passes, no matter, for as long as people survive, so shall music." Such phrases are the by-words of the Music Department. Throughout the years the Music Department has brought light-heartedness and joy to the halls of Warren Central. While enjoying resonant tones, one often forgets the hard work and determination necessary behind every lilting note.

Each year the Music Department enters many of its students in contests, nearly all of them emerging victorious. Among the many accomplishments of the Music Department annually is the Spring musical performance, produced in cooperation with the Drama Department, the musical, as well as the department, encourages the development of individualism.

Concerts, Contests Crowd Schedule

Concerts, contests, and performances for pre-game and halftime during the football and basketball seasons, are just a few of the activities which kept the Warren Central Band, Warriorettes, and Majorettes busy during the year.

These groups bring recognition to the whole school with their talent in music as well as marching and twirling.

A high school wouldn't be complete without a band and pretty girls marching to the music, and Warren Central has both.

Cincinnati Concert Inspires Musicians

The Concert, Chamber, and Symphony orchestras, as well as the String Ensemble, were conducted by Mr. Bruce Fowler in their performances throughout the year. In addition to their outside appearances, on November 19 the three orchestras presented "Around The World." It was a musical tour of the world, and contained a variety of selections from eight different, some exotic, countries, including Israel, Egypt, and Rumania.

The Symphony Orchestra was honored several times throughout the year, once by being requested to perform at Clowes Hall on February 28. The most thrilling honor came when they were selected to play on March 13 in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the 1971 North Central Regional Music Educators National Conference. There were only four organizations from Indiana chosen to perform for this event, and only two were high school groups, but Warren was the only orchestra represented. The organizations which were chosen to perform at this event auditioned by tape to a committee of University and music educators. Warren Central is very pleased and proud to have such a distinguished orchestra representing it.

Vocal Groups Strive For Perfection

Several times throughout the year the Warren Central student body was entertained by the Warrenaires, Windsors, and Madrigals. These vocal groups, under Mr. Phillip Dunn's able direction, also performed frequently outside of school. Two annual events of the choirs are caroling during the Christmas season on the Monument Circle, and performing at the Tudor-Madrigal dinner, presenting many medieval ballads.

In addition to having the honor of participating in these groups, the students reap many other benefits such as self-assurance, poise, and the opportunity to meet new personalities. Only the select are admitted to these groups and admission is by audition only. Auditioning is ultra-competitive and many hours of long practice is evident in each one. The tryouts are held once at the end of every year, and each is placed by Mr. Dunn accordingly. Warren Central's Madrigals are the "extra-special" vocal group. Almost every week they are called upon to perform for community and social events. These students exhibit the highest quality voices as much as hard work goes into every performance. Windsors is a representation of some of the finest male voices at Warren. Warrenaires, the largest choir at Warren, traditionally form the human Christmas tree and with the use of candles, it is a very impressive presentation.

Trebletones, Girls Glee Club, Chantelles Give

The girls at Warren Central were given many opportunities in the field of music. Because many of these girls were interested in singing, several different voice groups were created. Each of these singing groups was taken as a class and the girls received credit toward graduation.

Try-outs are held each year for these groups and the most coveted placement is with the Trebletones. This year twenty-two girls were chosen to participate in this group. The Trebletones were taught to coordinate singing with choreography, while learning poise and grace.

Another singing group, Chantelles, taught the girls voice control and coordination with other voices. The Chantelles gave performances, as did the Trebletones, for different organizations throughout the community.

The largest singing group for girls at Warren was the Girls' Glee Club. This group was for those who were just starting in the singing field. The girls were taught basic singing skills and learned to use their voices to their advantage.

The Christmas convocation held each year is put on through the combined efforts of the singing groups. A Christmas Concert was also given the week prior to Christmas vacation in which all the singing groups participated.

Art Abilities Displayed By Students

When the average Warrenite passes the art center, he may look at the displays and silently compliment the artist, but to the artist the display represents hours of hard work and self satisfaction, not only for a grade but for the self respect complementing a job well done.

The art center to the art students opens a whole new world completely separated from normal school life. Ideas flow freely from the containment of a shell bounded by the routine present in regular school activities. With only the aid of paint, clay, wire, paper and other art supplies, the artist tries to capture his ideas and express them to their beholders in the display.

Arts and Crafts teaches the pupil basic skills in handicraft. Such useful household articles as rugs, potholders and quilts are constructed with care for the personal use of the student. The course is not only useful but it is fun and interesting, too.

Business World Needs Well-trained Workers

Realizing the importance of the business world upon its students, Warren Central offers a variety of business courses from which to choose. A business math course permits students to expound their knowledge by studying numerous figures, graphs, and mathematic tables. Whether it be typing a manuscript, computing a seemingly endless list of figures in a clerical practice session, or simply learning the language of shorthand, the knowledge that is gained from these classes aids students in opening the doors that lead to business opportunities. Business courses are valuable to both the high school and college student.

After one or more business courses the Warren Central graduate is prepared for tomorrow—the age that will find him the leader of a modern and challenging business world.

Driver Education, Industrial Arts Project Initiative

Learning to drive in today's complex society can be quite a task! The Drivers Education course provides worthwhile training in the fundamentals of driving for many Warren Central students. For the majority of the pupils, this class offers the first opportunity for true driving experiences. The conditioning of young persons in the car, helps to teach many safety measures to the new drivers.

Shop courses at Warren provide interested students with greater advantages in the workmanship field by sparking initiative continually, as well as making these students better consumers in these fields. By becoming affiliated with the various aspects of shop, one eventually becomes capable of meeting the demanding needs of tomorrow's world.

New Pool, Swim Team, Swimming Classes

Physical fitness is a must for everyone. At Warren, a variety of activities makes it fun and enjoyable to keep fit both mentally and physically.

During the year, a student finds himself taking part in many different types of sports that he may or may not have participated in before, but for the most part, students enjoy the schedule for gym classes.

Softball, football, kickball, folk dancing, square dancing, tennis, and badminton are just a few of the many sports that students may take part in while enrolled in physical education classes.

Swimming, which is new at Warren, is another activity in which students participate. In addition to daily swimming, the pool is open the year round for the benefit of all Warren Township. The pool is open nightly in the summer, and during the school year it is open on Monday nights for the entire family.

Girls' Pep Block Supports Warrior Athletes;

Spirit was high this year at Warren. Spurred on by the mighty Warriors, the girls and boys in Pep Block backed their Warren teams with enthusiasm. At several points during the year, the spirit seemed to lag, but the Warrior teams always managed to bring the students' morale back to a high level. Along with attending all home sports events, the Pep Block members made large spirit signs for the foyer and smaller signs which adorned the players' lockers and the walls. The girls in Pep Block also sold candy to raise money to pay for their pompoms, gloves, and blouses, which were used by the girls during the home basketball games.

Lettermen from football, cross country, basketball, gymnastics, wrestling, swimming, golf, track, baseball, and tennis compose the Lettermen's Club. Besides participating in the athletic contests, the boys sold programs for the football games to raise money for the athletic fund. The Lettermen also hold the ropes surrounding the court during basketball season.

Any boy may join Fellowship Of Christian Athletes. The only qualification necessary is an interest in sports. Several camping outings for the boys are sponsored by FCA each year, and the members sold stadium cushions with Warrior heads on them to raise money for their treasury.

Archery club provided an opportunity for members to develop skill, accuracy, and technique while participating in the club's activities. The students met after school for target shoots.

Varsity Glovemen Lean On Veterans; Underclassmen Prospects For Future

"We just couldn't come up with the big play when we needed it."

"Before the season started, we realized that we had at least two positions where we would be weak. As it turned out these were two of our stronger positions."

Coach Foreman also commented,

"Our veterans carried us through, and a great bunch of underclassmen backed them up nicely."

"They were a spirited bunch of guys who really wanted to win. They worked hard and did their best."

Hard work combined with the outstanding skill of Dennis Kelly, the immeasurable dependability of Jim Pandoli behind the plate, and a strong pitching staff led by Will Hansen and Tom Laster, shows the team deserved more than their 6-9 record reveals. These veterans faced their opponents with determination, but a few surprises helped the varsity cause; Steve Dunn, a last minute replacement at second, proved he could do the job like a pro, the slugging power of first sacker Lee Collier, and the backup power of Larry Davis, Steve Koertge, Mark Dunn, and Dan O'Mara in the outfield strengthened morale and the drive to victory.

Mr. Foreman revealed that 1971 will be a building year, with strong emphasis on defense. In the past, Warrior defense has always been strong, but the coming season finds need for improvement, especially in the fielding techniques.

Reserve Warriors Prepare Prospects For Even Better Varsity Glove Team

The Reserve Baseball team, coached this year by Mr. Porter, exemplified the kind of team it takes to be consistent in victory.

The young Warriors had many chances to prove their mutual feeling of wanting to be best. The Southport game, played on a cold April day proved to be one of those occasions. With the score tied at 0-0 in the last inning, the Warriors began to spark. Larry Davis singled and stole second and third. Mike Newcomb then came to bat and with a 3-2 count, the Southport catcher missed the third strike. Mike stole first and in an attempt to correct his error, the Southport catcher overthrew his first baseman and Larry practically walked home to win the game.

There were other games in which the Warriors showed their eagerness for victory.

The Warriors were led by a strong infield unit consisting of Slugger Mark Limbach at first, utility infielder Rick Burns at short or second and Randy White guarding the third sack.

Hurlers Mike Newcomb and Gary Matthews paced the reserves from the mound whereas Karl Zellmer was the top hitting, top fielding outfielder. Junior Eldon McKenzie kept the team organized from behind the plate for most of the season.

These individuals will combine their talents in a varsity team that will put County and State honors within our grasp.

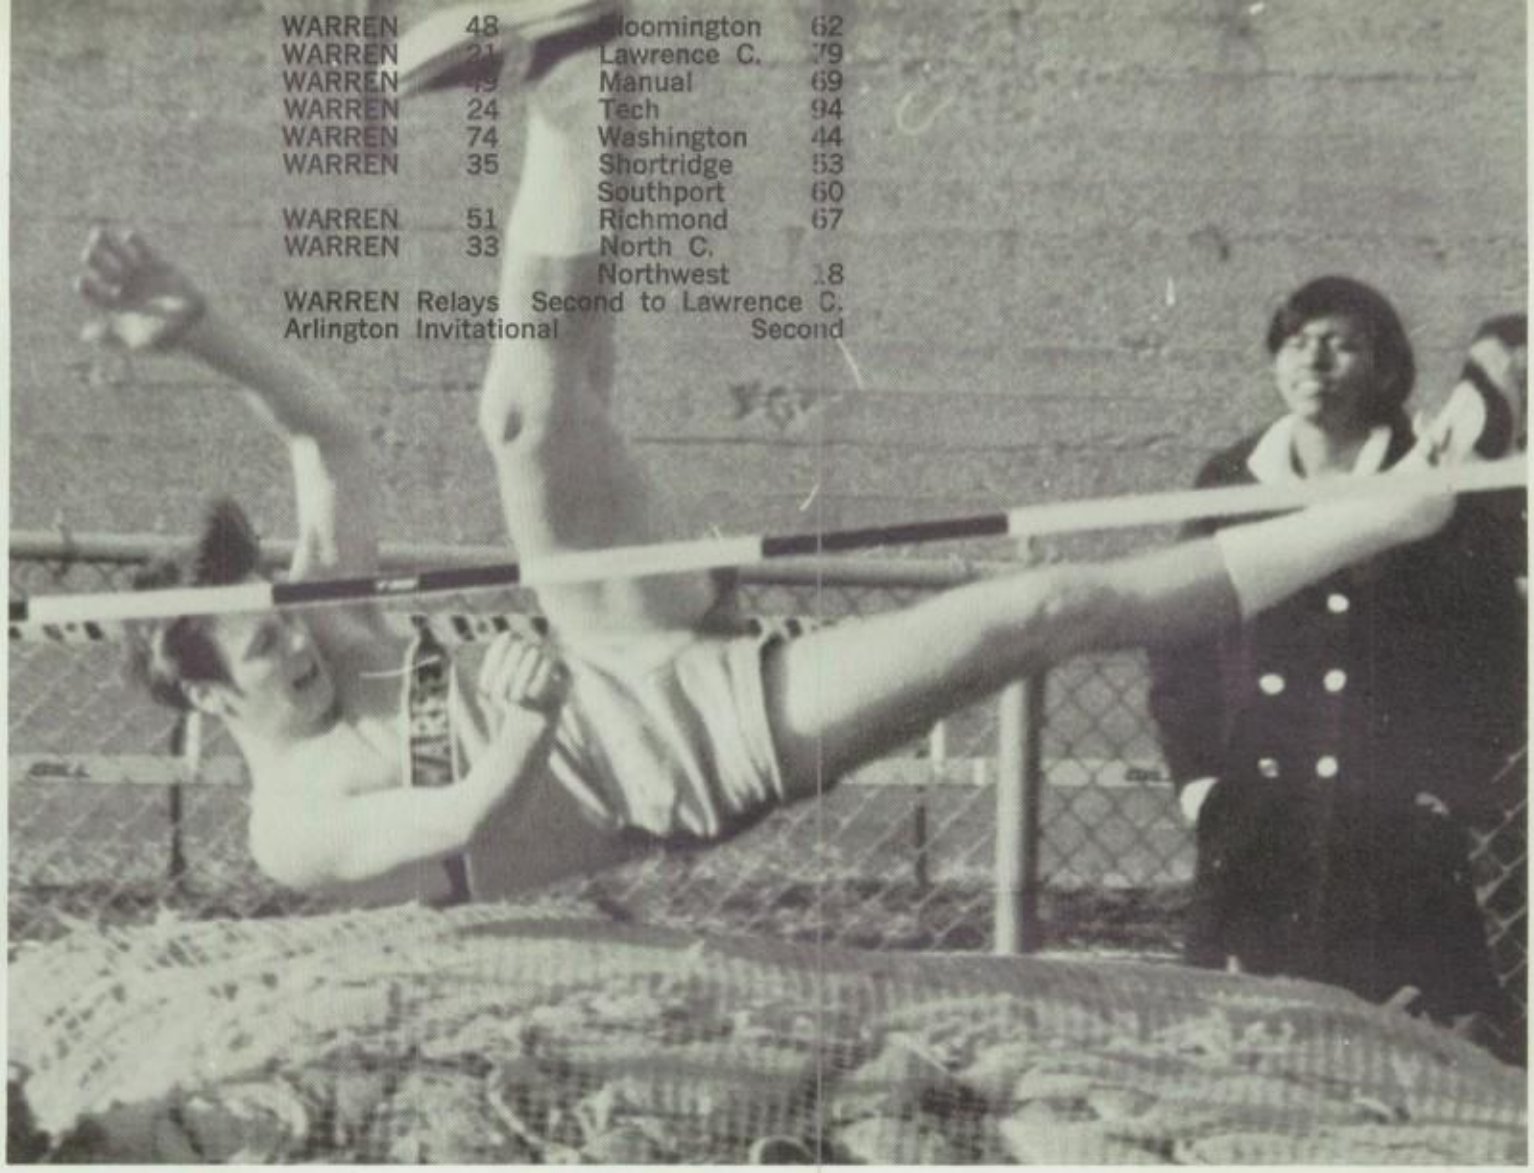
WARREN Relays Second to Lawrence C.
Arlington Invitational Second



(Far Left) Bob Power, Sophomore Cinderman, finishes his leg of the 880 relay only to begin the grueling one lap for Senior teammate Randy Miller. Both athletes were an asset to the varsity track cause. (Center) Facial expressions alone tell the story of the agony of the high hurdles. Sophomore Dick Held exemplifies the determination that is a must for any hurdler. This kind of determination will lead Dick to many honors in the seasons to follow. (Above) Showing the form that takes hours upon hours to perfect, Senior highjumper Dave Hickman reveals the finished product of his tedious work. A successful jump, finishing high in numerous meets, Dave's dedicated work was well rewarded. (Left) With a final burst of speed, Senior trackman Steve Fox breaks the victory string and secures valuable points for the Warriors. An all-round athlete such as Steve greatly strengthens the team.

The 1970 Varsity Track Team, under the guidance of first-year head coach Jerry Stauffer, combined the talents of returning lettermen and first-year sophomores to bring to Warren a morally victorious season in the win-loss column.

Led by seniors Steve Fox, Alan Harwell, and Randy Miller, the cindermen came close in many meets, only to be defeated by a slim number of points. One of the surprises of the season was the faring of the new crop of sophomores, who reached their peak during the latter part of the season. Sophomore Bob Power competed in three events; the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash, and the broad jump, and placed in all events often. Soph Greg Wessling showed his skills in the pole vault as he too placed quite frequently in Warren's meets. With this group of sophomores, the varsity team may prove to be one of the best at Warren.

These individual athletic efforts will provide the talent needed for a competitive season.

SECTIONAL 4th

The 1970 spring Golf Team had an exceptional season. Senior Larry Bayless, and underclassmen Mike Hacker, Kevin Stephens, Jeff Doty, Mike Landrum, and Wyman Stewart, combined their efforts to compile a record of 15 wins, 4 losses, and 1 tie. The low medalist for the season, Mike Hacker, built up quite an impressive record which was highlighted by placing second in the Lake Central Tourney, while the team as a whole placed eighth out of a field of thirty-eight. The group placed sixth in the county, and the sectional team, composed of four Warriors, was picked from the top individual scores in the tourney.

The prospects for 1971 look bright as the Warriors will have Hacker, Doty, Stewart, and Landrum back for another year. Coach Roach will surely have the talent for another great team.

Sophomore Mike Landrum applies all of these as he tops off a great drive with a successful putt.

Varsity Footballers Start Fire Early, Reach Premature Peak At Mid-Season

Koertge, Halsted, Glesing, Zellmer, Limbach, Bohnert. These are names seldom heard, read, or even thought about during the football season. Even so, these men constitute one of the more important facets of football, the Line.

Linemen go literally unrecognized although they lodge the fiercest battles in the game. The only satisfaction linemen possess is the fact that they know within themselves that their job was done, and done well.

To discredit the running backs of football would be tragic because the recognition they receive is just. The fact that they train to establish speed and agility, as well as strength puts them in a class all their own. Without the aid of the linemen breaking a hole to "see daylight", the running back would have a much tougher job.

The 1970 Varsity Football team possessed the assets needed for a great season. The outstanding backfield, consisting of Doug Fentz, Dan O'Mara, Bob Power and Jim Pandoli, combined with the leadership of quarterback Larry Davis contributed greatly to the remarkable record of 7-3.

Next year for the Warriors looks great with the return of many of this year's stars, along with players from the undefeated reserve team. Although the loss of individual stars, such as Pandoli and Scaringe, will effect the Warriors of next season, the valuable experience gained by the returning players will benefit the team and lead them to a victorious season.

Reserves Finish Season Undefeated; Warrior Football Future Looks Great

To say the 1970 Reserve football squad was good would be an under-statement. Without a doubt, they proved throughout the season that they were justified in being called great.

The Reserve Warriors had everything it took for the completion of an undefeated season. A great offensive and defensive line led by Gary Bohnert, John Jefferson, Dennis Moos, and Brent Smock, and a tremendous offensive backfield under the able leadership of Sophomore Quarterback Doug Pirtle, who at numerous times during the season, identified perfectly with a "coach's dream."

But the part of this team that made them outstanding was the fact that they had depth. At any time during the season, in case of an injury or other problems, a position could be filled with a player of the same ability. This is important to any team that is to achieve great success.

Spirit played an important part in the undefeated season also. Not only the spirit generated by the cheerleaders at pep sessions, but the spirit the team had and carried throughout the season. Coach Jerry Stauffer knows the importance of being "up" for a game and he saw to it that the team was prepared before each encounter.

Most important, though, is the fact that within this team lies the Varsity players of the next season, and with the foreshadowing of this past year, the time and effort put out by each boy, as well as by the team as a whole, will pay off and keep Warren Central within the ranks of the top county contenders for the next seasons.

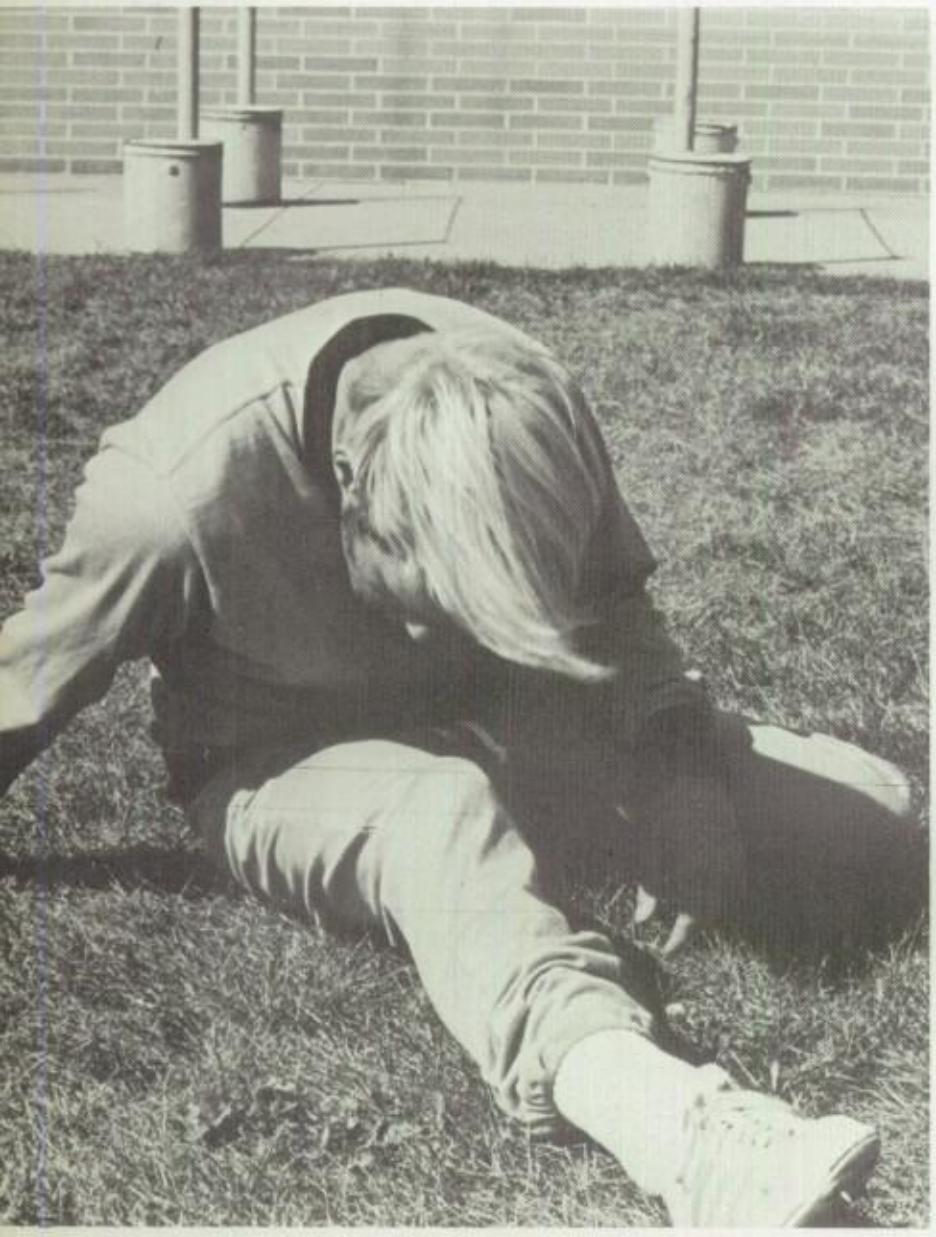
(Left) Listening attentively, sophomore defenseman George Lord gets the instructions from Coach Stauffer, to be relayed to the rest of the defensive squad. Putting years of applied knowledge to work, Coach Stauffer led the Reserve Warriors to an undefeated season. The yearly statistics showed that the reserves outscored their opponents 205 to 26. Not only does this show strong offensive power, but also illustrated how well the defense did their job. (Above) Although hindered with injuries for the greater part of the season, Mike Clancy exhibits his running skills as defenders try in vain to stop him. Determination such as Mike's will lead these young men to many victories on and off the football field.

Harriers Finish Season With Moral Victory;



The gun sounds and you're off. A grueling two miles lay ahead, and now is the chance to apply all of the training and mental discipline you have acquired in the past few months of practice. What goes through the Cross Country runner's minds during the meets?

"The last thing you think about is fatigue," replied Wayne Stetina, senior and veteran of three seasons of Varsity Cross Country. Your mind wonders about many things, but probably mostly dwells on the guy in front of you. You know that you have to find enough energy to pass him and this is where mental discipline becomes very important.

"The desire to win is also important to the success of a cross country runner," says Wayne. Desire is very evident in Wayne's case. His devotion of all of his free time to training proves that he is out to win. Along with Wayne on the varsity squad this year, were two juniors and three sophomores. Scott Burns, who ran as second man all year, and Steve Patterson, third man, will lead the Cross Country team in the seasons to come.

(Above) Senior Loran Dowling warms up with a few exercises before participating in the Howe meet. The dependability that Loran provided proved to be important in the close matches, Runners such as Loran strengthen a team greatly. (Upper right) Keeping a steady pace is important to a runner and may be the difference between a good time and a great time. Exhibiting the stride that took long hours to perfect, Junior Wes Crawford paces undaunted to the completion of a meet. (Far right) Getting a good start is only one of the basic factors in cross country. Here, showing great team effort is the start of the Howe match with five of the Warren runners in front. Although individuality is stressed, team work is important.

Gain Experience For Use In Years To Come

Underclassmen Carry Varsity Tennis; Competitive Season Expected In Fall

"Even though each member of the squad practiced long and hard, we just couldn't come up with a winning combination." This statement, coming from junior tennis player Terry Leyenberger, probably best sums up the 1970 fall tennis season.

The team started out great by beating New Palestine in a pre-season exhibition match 4-3. They then ran into problems and followed their victory with an 0-9 season record.

Coach DeBruicker devised a system whereby he could play the best five men in each match. The night before every match, the members of the Varsity team were challenged by other members of the Reserve team. The winner of each match then played the following evening.

Playing first man for the Warriors was Scott Allen. Scott, being the only senior on the team, held the position all season due to the experience he had gained in the past. Randy White, a junior, played second man all season. Although Randy did not play during the 69-70 season, he showed his ability in early practices.

The third, fourth, and fifth positions changed frequently during the year. Toward the end of the season, junior Terry Leyenberger permanently occupied third position, while Jeff Short held down fourth. Fifth position was filled by Jeff Watson, Dave Whistler, or Mark Wright.

Sophomores Bob Bronson, Charles Gale, Paul Studeville, and Paul Drummond occupied the reserve spots this year, and are expected to come through with the talent needed for the coming seasons.

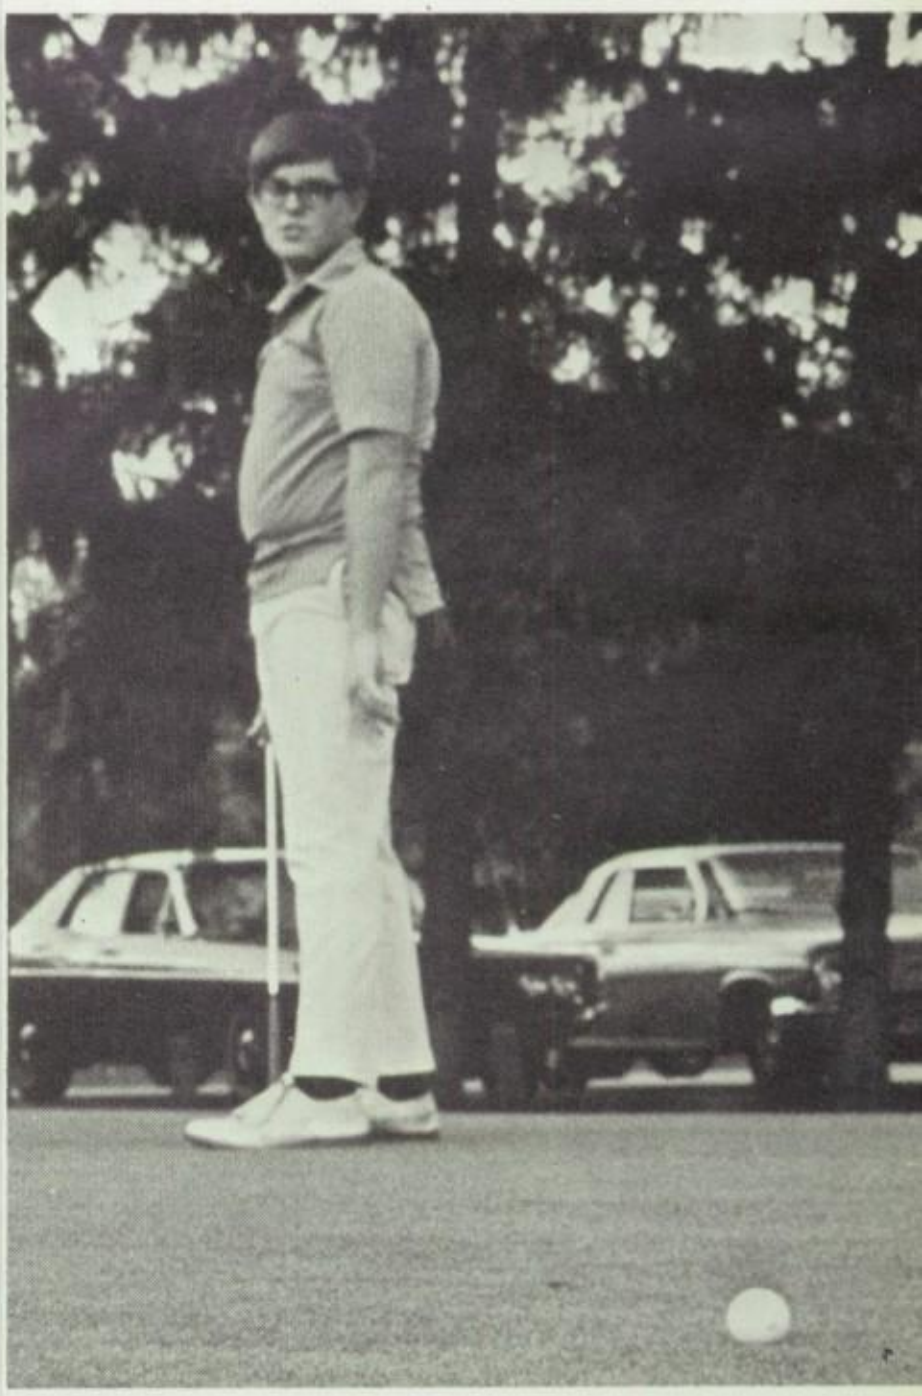
(Far Right) If there is a time when a few seconds seem like hours, it is between the time that the ball leaves the head of the club and when it goes into the cup. Junior Mike Landrum watches his putt and through the duration, wonders if all the calculating and practice put into it will pay off with the ultimate goal, the ball in the cup.

Performance Awards Given At Season's End

The 1970 Intramural Golf Season got off to a swinging start. A total of ten teams consisting of two men participated on the spacious, rolling hills of Pleasant Run Golf Course. A handicap system, derived by Mr. Ron Roach, made the competition tough for all those participating. Mike Hacker, Mike Landram, Wyman Stewart, Jeff Doty, Chris Nold and Jim Delora were left at the end of regular season play and the individual players Hacker, Landram, and Stewart tied, and a playoff decided the champion. Wyman Stewart won the match with an outstanding round of 33, Landram had 34, and Hacker 35. The awards were given to Mike Hacker and Mike Landram who finished the season undefeated.

All members displayed such a promising effort that Coach Roach said he was looking for a county and sectional championship in the 1971 campaign.



Spirit, Hard Work Perfect Basketball; Warren Netmen Finish Winning Year

Without a doubt this has been the year for Warren athletics. Remember the football season when no one could stop the Mighty Warriors? Upon reaching a mid-season peak, the Warriors lost the big games and the county championship was pulled out from under them.

Such was the case with the varsity basketball team. Possessing all of the qualities that could have taken Warren far into the State Tournament, the Warriors hit a premature peak of perfection and won the County Championship. After the County win, sickness delayed All County, All Sectional scoring champ Chris Donahue, as injuries hampered Mike Gwinnup and Gary Matthews.

The accomplishments of this 1971 team will be remembered even longer than the one point loss in sectionals. A record-breaking 109-74 game against Carmel with Donahue scoring 39 points, and another county championship trophy plus a 22-6 record over-all and 18-5 in season play will leave this team's mark at Warren for many years to come.

Reserve Netmen Become Nucleus Of Future Team

Sportscasters say that statistics tell the story, but this is not the case with the Reserve Basketball team of the 1970-71 campaign. The season shows a disheartening record of 10 wins against 10 losses, but behind these trivial figures lie a team that could develop into another county basketball threat, as many Warrior teams have in the past.

Consisting of both Sophomores and Juniors, the Reserve Warriors at various times throughout the season showed the possibilities of a highly spirited, winning ball team, but with players continually being moved to Varsity positions, and key injuries to Marc Toffolo and Brad Smith, the "little Warriors" weren't able to be consistent in good team play.

Individually, the Warriors had power enough to beat any opposing team. Quick, agile guards such as Doug Walker and Doug Pirtle add greatly to a team as does the rebounding power of Marc Toffolo.

Playing experience in the Reserve ranks proved worthwhile as Dave Kleyn was moved to Varsity at mid-season to become an eventual starter in Sectional Tourney play.

The future reveals the possibility of round-ball excellence at Warren through the efforts of the boys participating at the Reserve level this year.

Nats, Scrashes, Nostrils Dominate Intra-mural Play

February 19, 1971 and the Intramural season draws to a close. In the Sophomore division, the Moon Juice 7 remain undefeated throughout the season, but were defeated by the Nats in a double overtime contest won at the free throw line.

In the Junior division, the Running Nostrils, who have led the division all season and boasting an undefeated record of 8 wins and 0 losses, go against Neto's Bunch while Krabz hindered by injuries, battle the Kukamonga All-Stars. The Nostrils win the semi-finals game easily by a 23 point deficit, while the All-Stars upset the Krabz and the action moves to the 8:00 finals.

Although the All-Stars try desperately, their efforts are in vain as the Nostrils, led by the play of John Schulz, win by the score of 58-38.

As the Senior division championship rolls around we find the Scrashes pitted against the Blue Blazers for the division title. The Scrashes jumped off to a quick lead and the Blazers were not able to recover. The Scrashes won by a sizeable margin and were dubbed champions.

Intra-mural basketball affords the boys a good opportunity to practice their skills and build for the regular school teams.

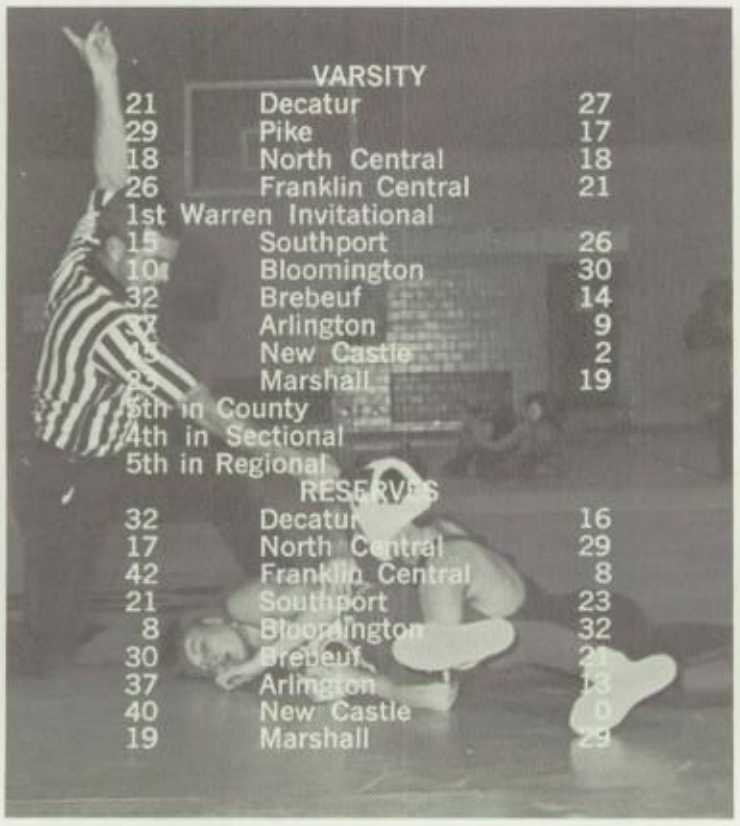
Determination To Characterize WC Wrestling



Wrestling, although it has been in the athletic department for years, it is still one of the least understood and appreciated spectator sports at Warren Central. A wrestler must reduce his weight at the beginning of the season and maintain it throughout. This involves a rigorous dieting process and obedience to training rules. Practice involves running stairs and the development of wrestling techniques. In addition to the personal satisfaction after a victorious meet, the wrestlers receive individual ribbons and trophies.

But Warren Wrestling goes on undaunted and succeeds in bringing County and Sectional honors to the school. This year, although the whole team did a tremendous job, it was Dick Held, who placed first in county and sectional tournaments, and Andy Watt, who won his weight class in the sectional, who distinguished themselves "above and beyond" the average.

Swimmers End Season With Encouraging

With the final completion of the Warren Central swimming pool, not only is there a new Physical Education course offered, but also a whole new range of interest is developed by the swim team.

Warren Central was honored this year in being chosen as the site for the 1971 Sectional meet.

Although it is a little known or appreciated activity, swimming exemplifies what it takes to be a truly exciting spectator sport.

A swim meet, although few people know what is going on all the time, is never a dull activity to watch. Immediately after the completion of one event, another one begins. "It's sort of like a three ring circus, comments Coach Con Keller. Another thing that singles out swimming as a great spectator sport is the fact that all the action takes place within a short matter of minutes and all climaxes are reached without a long duration of time being expired.

Jeff Mock, Senior, was the year's outstanding swimmer if one should have to be picked. Jeff participated in the 100-yard butterfly and the 200-yard individual medley and scored consistently in both events throughout the course of the season.

Next year looks bright for the splash squad.

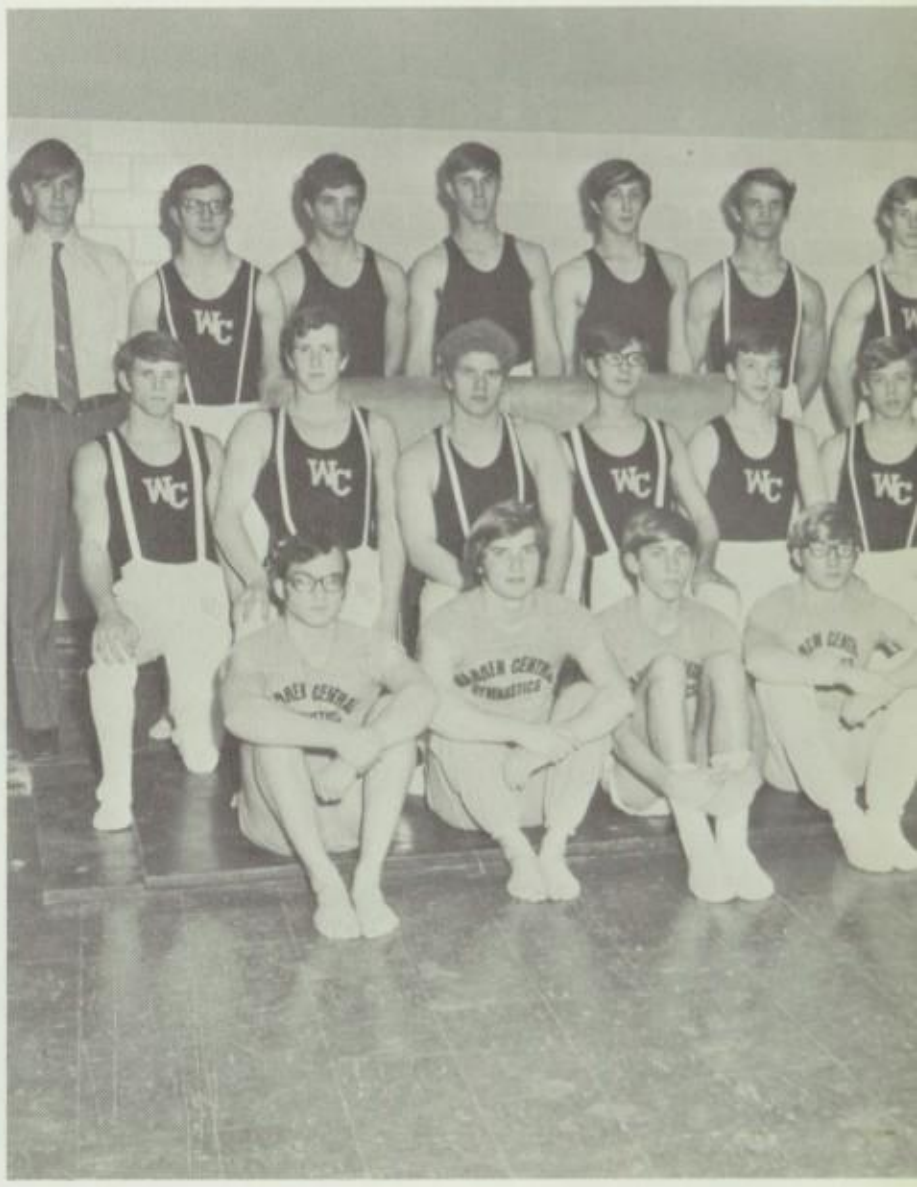
Underclassmen Promising For Future Season

It doesn't take much to become a Gymnast. Just the determination of a spirited horse, the strength of a weightlifter, the co-ordination of a circus tightrope walker and a lot of good old fashioned guts. Fortunately there exists at Warren a group of boys who possess such characteristics, and they use them to their utmost abilities to become perfectionists in their particular event. Whether it is trampoline, high-bar, side horse, parallel bars, still rings or tumbling, the same qualities are needed to assure a successful routine.

This season, gymnastic honors went again to Mike Payne. As a sophomore last year, Mike placed 8th in State competition for the trampoline. In the 1971 State Gymnastic meet, Mike again rose to the occasion with a 4th place exhibition on the same apparatus.

Warren placed 12th in the team standings, a respectable position considering the fact that the best gymnasts in Indiana were their opponents.

The future looks good for Coach Don Kassen as he will have many returning gymnasts to participate next season.



Tennis, Bowling Thrilling Sports For GAA Girls

Warren Central's Girl's Athletic Association is a member of the Indiana League of High School Girls Athletic Association. The purpose is to stimulate the co-curricular phase of the high school girl's physical education program.

Participants in GAA have a wide variety of sports from which to choose. In the fall and spring, girls may participate in softball, archery, and tennis. Volleyball, bowling, badminton, swimming, and gymnastics are available for indoor recreation during the winter. The basketball team in the inter-school competition ended the season with two wins against three losses. The team played Southport and Ladywood at home, and Decatur, Marshall, and the Deaf School were played away from home.

Mickey Mouse is the mascot of the GAA swim team, but the girls certainly do not Mickey Mouse around. Beginning their first full year, the swimmers have proved themselves to be outstanding contenders. In order to accommodate the boys swim team, the practice times varied. Any time from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. might find the girls hard at work practicing for their next meet. Co-captains Nancy Pavey and Cindy Foster, who were chosen by the girls, lead the team in practice.

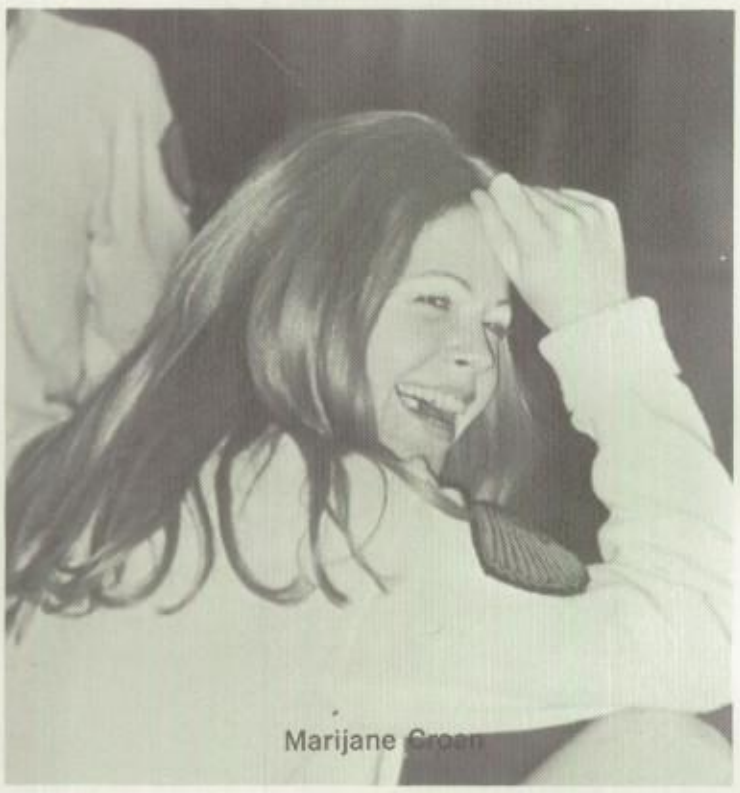
Cheerleaders Promote School Spirit, Add Enthusiam To Sporting Events



Marijane Croan

With all the invigorating energy of a Saturn rocket, cheerleaders launch us into the true spirit of each sporting event. Cheerleaders fill the gap left between the players and the spectators; by doing this they not only help the team but also add enthusiasm to the game itself.

Just as a coach tries to build team spirit with pep talks, cheerleaders use such tools as signs, announcements, pepsessions, and unique cheers and chants to build school spirit, which any athlete or coach knows is so important during a successful and victorious sports season.

Seniors Choose Black, Gold For Graduation;

1971 Senior Council officers included Mr. Gates (sponsor); Bill Glesing (president); Liz Dick (vice president); Cheri Ransom (secretary); Ron McMath (treasurer).

Graduation concluded a year filled with preparation, activities and honors. For the first time this year, a Christmas dance was held in the foyer co-sponsored by all three councils. A revised dress code was established to please practically every individual. Seniors will also recall that in their last year, dauntless men landed on the moon, Women's Liberation marched on, and young men continued to serve their country in Vietnam. The seniors expressed their varied feeling through the representatives to the Senior Council. The Senior Council met and voted on the 1971 class colors which echoed Warren's own colors; black and gold. The traditional Senior prom was discussed in the council meetings and the site agreed upon was the I.U. Medical Center. Along with deciding the countless details that accompany graduation, the Senior Council concluded to leave a time capsule, in which memories of the class of '71 will be restored to life at a later date. And as it says in our class motto for all seniors, "Forever, starts today."

Graduation . . . . 1971 . . . . It was only yesterday that it seemed eternities away. Now suddenly, all the pieces of dreams that have been accumulating throughout our entire life are beginning to correspond and will eventually turn into one meaningful reality.

New and unexplored worlds lie ahead. It will be the responsibility of each individual to set his goals and rise to them. Our greatest achievements will depend upon what has been attained from past experiences and how this knowledge can be applied to problems which occur in the future.

Decisions are now made to comply with the once inconclusive plans that will guide us along the path to happiness and success. Most graduates will decide to continue their education at one of the many outstanding colleges and universities. Still others will want to find a job immediately and begin "living in the world". A minority will take a long, hard look at life itself, and conclude that it is their responsibility to set out and try to change the many wrongs our world is confronted with at this time.

Some approach graduation with tears; others with a sigh of relief. Our last precious moments are undoubtedly the most expressive, for they remind us that this is an end. Never again will there be such a time as this. 1971 . . . . It is over. Our new life begins.

Juniors Form Clubs, Organizations Background

The "underclassmen," sophomores and juniors, consist of more than two-thirds of Warren Central's student body. During the school year, they contribute greatly to obtaining and keeping the good name for which Warren Central, its faculty, and most of all, its students stand. Throughout the year, many goals are accomplished by each class, so that Warren is rated as a high school from which many fine students graduate, and this year is certainly no exception, for each class has done an excellent job of playing its part.

During homeroom and between classes, students visit the bookstore for supplies needed during the day.

Warren Central Community With Good Service

Obert B. Piety

Principal Of The Year 1970-71

Climaxing forty-four years of illustrious service to education, Mr. Piety well deserves the praise from his last school. During his education at Indiana State University, Mr. Piety taught the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades at Perry Creek School in Vigo County. After receiving his BS degree he began teaching Science and Physical Education, as well as coaching basketball in Clay City and Harrison Schools. In addition to these duties he served as principal in Thorntown School in Boone County. During this time he also received his MS degree from Indiana State University and Iowa State University. In 1955 Mr. Piety came to Warren Central to serve as Dean of Boys, and in 1960 he became Vice Principal. He assumed the position of Principal for the 1970-71 school year. His hobbies include fishing, hunting, gardening, and golfing. Max Galloway Studio salutes Obert B. Piety and his faithful devotion to education and the development of individuals.

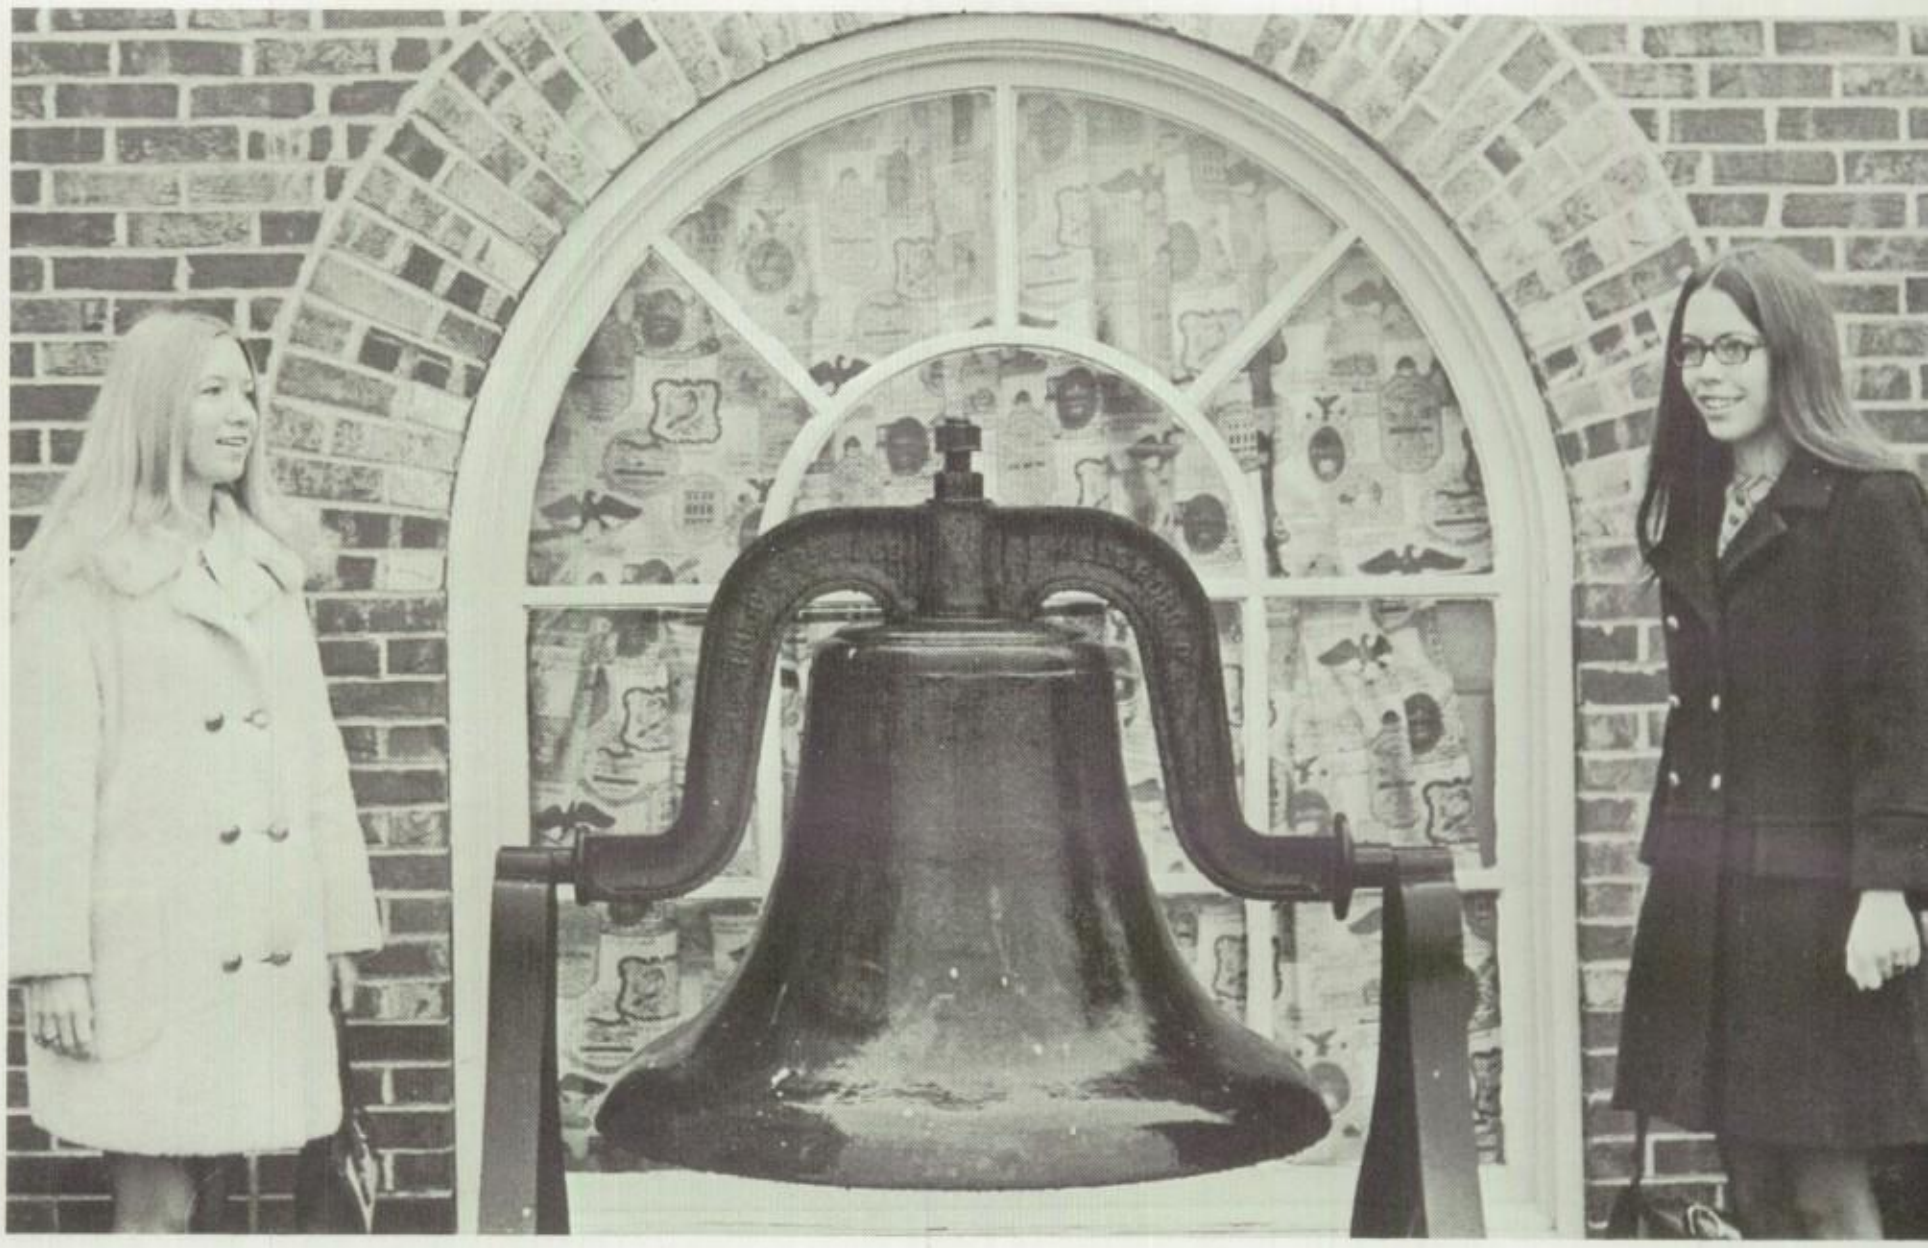
Warren Students Look For Quality In Buying



(Above) Juniors Debbie Little and Pat Head adorn the historical bell which is the trademark of the Liberty Bell Store found at 8949 East Washington Street, phone 898-3180. (Left) The symbolic sign of the Liberty Bell Store shows the traditional good service one may find at the store. (Above Right) The recently renamed George Thomas Flower Company, 6011 East Tenth Street, phone 359-9641, is the perfect place to visit for corsages and all floral gifts imaginable. Here Seniors Linda Voyles and Dave Clark enjoy the lovely arrangements to be found in the shop. (Far Right) Seniors Gary Heck and Mitch Hurley enjoy hanging around the old Chuckwagon at the Preston's Supermarket found on 3721 North Post Road, phone 897-2224. Preston's which has several locations throughout Indianapolis carries the finest in all grocery and meat products. (Right) Senior Chris Quinton is enjoying the "real thing" with a Coke.

WE'VE COME A LONG WAY FROM THE LITTLE DOG AND HIS HORN.

A long way since 1906 when the Victrola® phonograph was introduced. And Nipper heard His Master's Voice.

Now it's the 70's and we haven't even stopped for breath. Our latest milestone is Dimensia III stereo. A complete audio center for the home. Stereo phonograph, AM/FM Stereo radio, and tape cassette recorder. All in one.

Sealed Cushionaire speakers give such power and depth to the bass, they can actually blow out a match.

The Computer Crafted radio tuner is designed to pull in hard-to-get signals and separate crammed-together stations.

We back all this up with an amplifier of 200 watts peak power.

Dimensia III. You've never seen anything like it before. As for Nipper, he'd never have thought of it in his wildest dreams.

But Dimensia III stereo isn't all we have in sound. You'll find many other phonographs, tape instruments and radios in the RCA line. In all sizes and shapes. And all in the RCA tradition of quality that stretches back 64 years.

We got our start in sound. And we haven't lost our voice. Not by a long shot.

New vibrations from an old master.

Warrenites Influence Purchasing By Parents

(Above) Seniors Sherri Mace and Laura Cole enjoy testing perfumes and other toiletries at Post Value Pharmacy, Inc. The Pharmacy at 2121 North Post Road, phone 898-1380, not only sells all cosmetic needs, but also furnishes helpful beauty tips. Gifts and school supplies of all kinds are available along with prescriptions and photographic needs. No matter what the pharmaceutical need is, Post Value Plus Pharmacy can fulfill the order with a smile. (Right) Junior Sue Tellman and senior Claudia Chambers try their hand at flower arranging at Dottie's Flowers, Inc., 3790 North Arlington Avenue, phone 547-9518. Dottie's Flowers can provide bouquets, arrangments, potted plants, corsages, and all types of floral gifts for every occasion. Flowers have always been the nicest, most sentimental way to express affection, particularly for someone you love. A floral gift can be given at anytime of the year, and is always in good taste, especially if the flowers come from Dottie's.

Nearby Firms Fulfill Needs For WC Students

(Left) the picturesque lake of the S and H Campgrounds proves to be a lovely setting for campouts, hayrides, picnics, and hikes. Found R.R. 2, Greenfield, phone 326-3208, the campgrounds are perfect for family campouts or group picnics anytime. (Bottom) Seniors Cindy Foster and Steve Koertge stand by the Foster Engineering Company sign with offices at 4741 East Washington Street, phone 359-9251. Excellence in architectural designing and engineering is the trademark of the company. (Right) Rick Doan examines the superior quality of a well-tailored suit from the Hudson's Menswear Store in the Eastgate Shopping Center, phone 357-4062. Hudson's can provide everything in the way of menswear for the best-groomed man. (Bottom Right) Going to the barber can sometimes be a painful experience, but not at Post Plaza Barber Shop, 2121 North Post Road, phone 898-4874. The barbers at Post Plaza are experts at trimming hair to the customer's complete satisfaction. (Far Right) Seniors Debbie Cole and Mary Besinger marvel at all the good things to be found to eat at Ziegy's Barbeque, 2164 South Emerson Avenue, phone 356-6855. Ziegy's is an excellent place for dates and family meals.

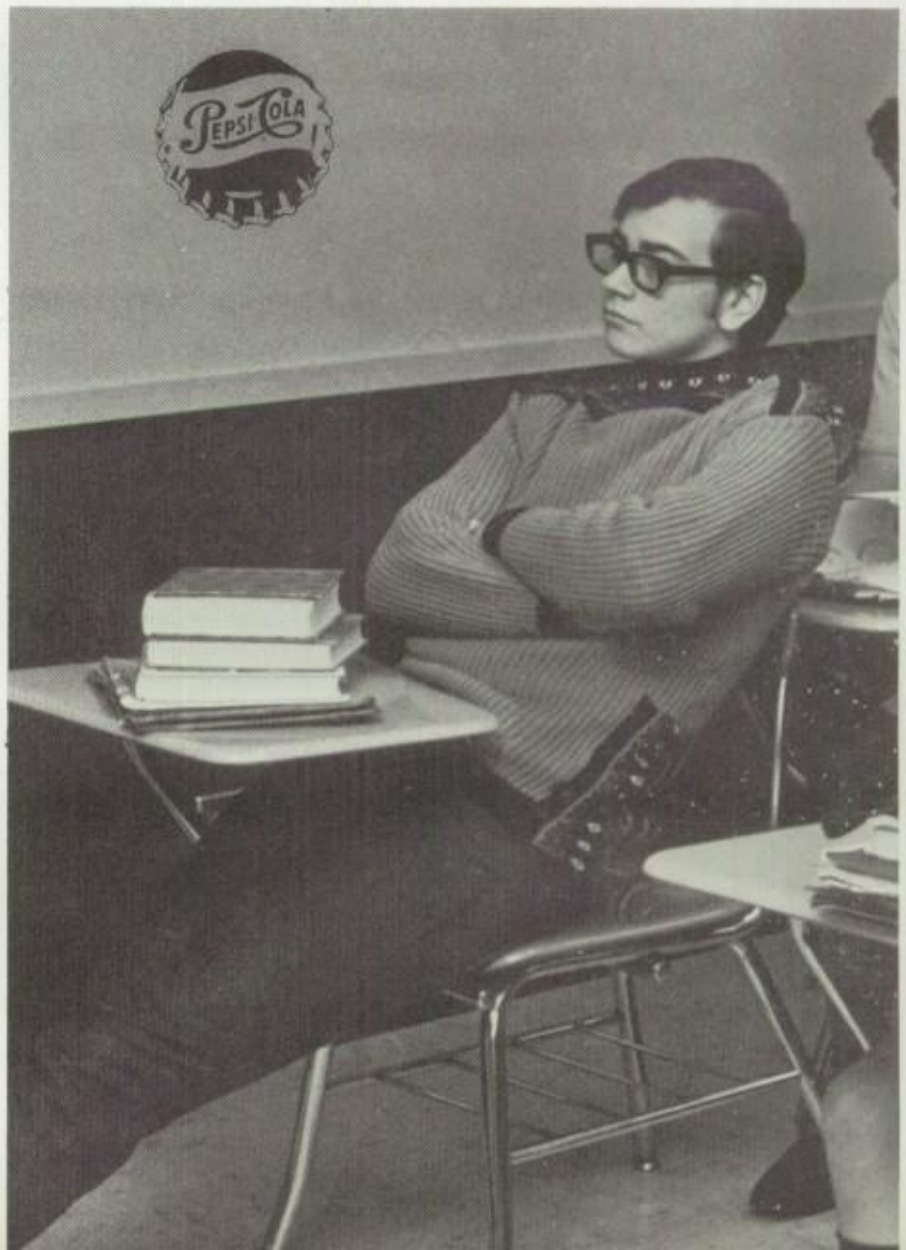
Local Firms Fulfill Warren Students' Needs;



Warrenites Add To Nearby Economy Growth

(Left and Right) Jim Niccum's Standard Service Stations, located at 3799 North Post Road, phone 898-8229, and 21st Street and Post Road, phone 897-5353 can service all individual automotive needs. Few service stations can proclaim excellence in the attention to perfection for each customer. (Far Bottom Left) Seniors Carolyn Leonard and Linda Voyles display their Austrian costumes and European posters after their return from an exciting summer in Europe with the Foreign Study League, the pleasurable way to learn of Europe and experience the individual adventures necessary in maturation. Mr. Glesing, Warren counselor, heads the Warren division of the study program. (Bottom Left) Daydreaming about about all the life he's got to live, Tony Jackson, thinks that sparkling Pepsi might just be a little more exciting than a long class. (Bottom) Merchants National Bank, located at 950 North Shadeland Avenue, phone 357-8545, is a full-service bank serving all the needs of the individual. Bank manager, Don R. Miller is an excellent financial counselor in all matters, emergency and daily.

Warren Students Like Up-To-Date Companies

(Above and Left) The radio staff has been diligently working on their new equipment since their first broadcasting this school year. The radio staff is now important in the Warren Central Media department. The radio staff offers each member a distinctly advantageous individualism in their speaking and writing development. This radio station promotional advertisement was furnished compliments of Commercial Electronics. (Above Right) Wonder Bread, a division of the Continental Baking Company, is important to build strong bones to create individuals. (Right) All guys enjoy buying flowers from the Arlington Flower Shop, 1335 North Arlington Avenue, phone 366-2489. For fresh arrangements and corsages the Arlington Flower Shop is always at hand. (Far Right) Ron McMath admires the beautiful cars at Oaklandon Sales Company, located at 11820 Pendleton Pike, phone 823-4471. Cars to fit every individual's needs may be found in perfect condition at Oaklandon Sales.

National, Local Businesses Serve Warrenites

(Above) The people at Randy's Cycle Shop, located at 5560 Brookville Road, phone 356-6391, enjoy admiring the motorcycles and high-powered vehicles at the shop. The motorcycle is an excellent form of transportation, especially for economically-minded students. Randy's Cycle Shop has many types of motorcycles and vehicles for every individual's taste and need. The motorcycle is always in style and particularly practical. (Left) Seniors Rosie Lane and Steve Frazer marvel at the delicious meal they have found at the Dairy Queen, which is found at Post Road and Tenth Street, phone 898-5687. The Dairy Queen has always been the favorite meeting place of Warren Central students. The Dairy Queen is the place to take a date or just simply relax and cool off on a hot summer afternoon. The ice cream products to be found at the Dairy Queen are always just the thing needed to refresh, while the delicious Brazier Burgers hit the spot with after school snacks or meals for those who are on-the-go. Dairy Queen service is always efficient and courteous, yet only the best is served to customers. Both local and national companies strive to furnish Warrenites with the best possible service at all times.

Providing better communications service to the public—that's Western Electronic's responsibility. Junior George Tomanovich and Senior Susan Franzen can see how we are meeting our responsibility.

Warren Students Appreciate Faithful Service

(Far Left) Merchandise to comply to the taste of the individual is a necessary factor in the retail furniture business. To fulfill the needs of today's modern styles, Bowman Furniture, 100 South Post Road, phone 898-5957, supplies the customer with the finest merchandise along with special advice in decorating. (Above) Hendryx Mortuaries, 11636 East Washington Street, phone 894-7421, have long been Warren Central supporters. (Left) Satisfaction for each customer is the goal that the barbers at Dunlap Barber Shop, Eastgate Shopping Center, phone 357-1856, strive to achieve. In today's society, where grooming plays such an important part in the makeup of the individual, students such as Junior Gary Hoffmann are relieved to know that they can rely on the well-trained barbers at Dunlap's. (Right) . . . Within our grasps as individuals, new worlds lie.

Individuals
Planning for today,
living for tomorrow,
listening to the pulsating rhythm
of individualism.
Energy
Desiring to be involved.
to belong to the world
that claims their being.
Freedom
Not always found,
but continually sought for.
Dreams
Discovered through the necessity of expression,
granting new knowledge
within.
Youth
Questioning the norms of today and seeking the modes
for tomorrow, anxious for the birth of a new world.

Without our grasp as individuals . . . new worlds lie! Truly, during the 1971 year, the zealous youth of a futuristic generation continued to discover the horizons overlooking new worlds. First time acquaintances were molded into life-long friendships, and freshly formed memories caused an occasional tear to be shed. Through the pages of the 1971 WIGWAM, countless memories of a year past have been preserved. A heartwarming thanks must be extended to Mrs. Nell Brooks, whose capable leadership and instruction led to the production of the book. Mr. Dick Kennard, Newsfoto representative must be thanked for his effort in taking 'almost impossible' ideas, and transforming them into workable schemes. To Mr. Max Galloway, Senior photographer, an appreciative thanks for his patience and time in helping to create fabulous pictures. The Indiana School Pictures must be acknowledged for their time consuming task of taking underclass pictures. The '71 WIGWAM staff included Sherri Mace (co-editor), Gary Heck (co-editor), Patti Kuhn (managing editor), Sue Franzen (photography co-ordinator), Pat Head (academics editor), Rosey Lane (activities editor), Diane Borski (activities assistant editor), Dan Collier (sports editor), Connie Rodewald (faculty editor), Linda Simpson (album co-ordinator), Jeanette Hodges (album assistant), Debbie Little (underclass editor), Lou Ann Walker (advertising editor, subscriptions, business manager), Glenn Beckett (chief photographer), Chris Quinton (photographer), Jim Mendenhall (photographer), Paul Loudermilk (photographer), Keith Thomas (photographer). To this yearbook staff . . . 'thanks' for illuminating the fact that within our grasp as individuals . . . new worlds lie.

Rob,
See, Sam really sorry you didn't make it in Madrigals.
Will probably sound d
lousy with-out you. d hope you will continue in your music, cause really good
Best of luck with your band and I have a nice summer.
So ya next year.
Marcia

Rob,
You are really a great guy and I hope I'll see alot of ya this summer and next year. From Rob: You are really a great guy with a neat bod that I dig on, (Even though I don't know ya) maybe in the future days here at W.C. we will become better acquainted. Hope
so. (How queer!)
From both of us,
Brenda
and Ellen

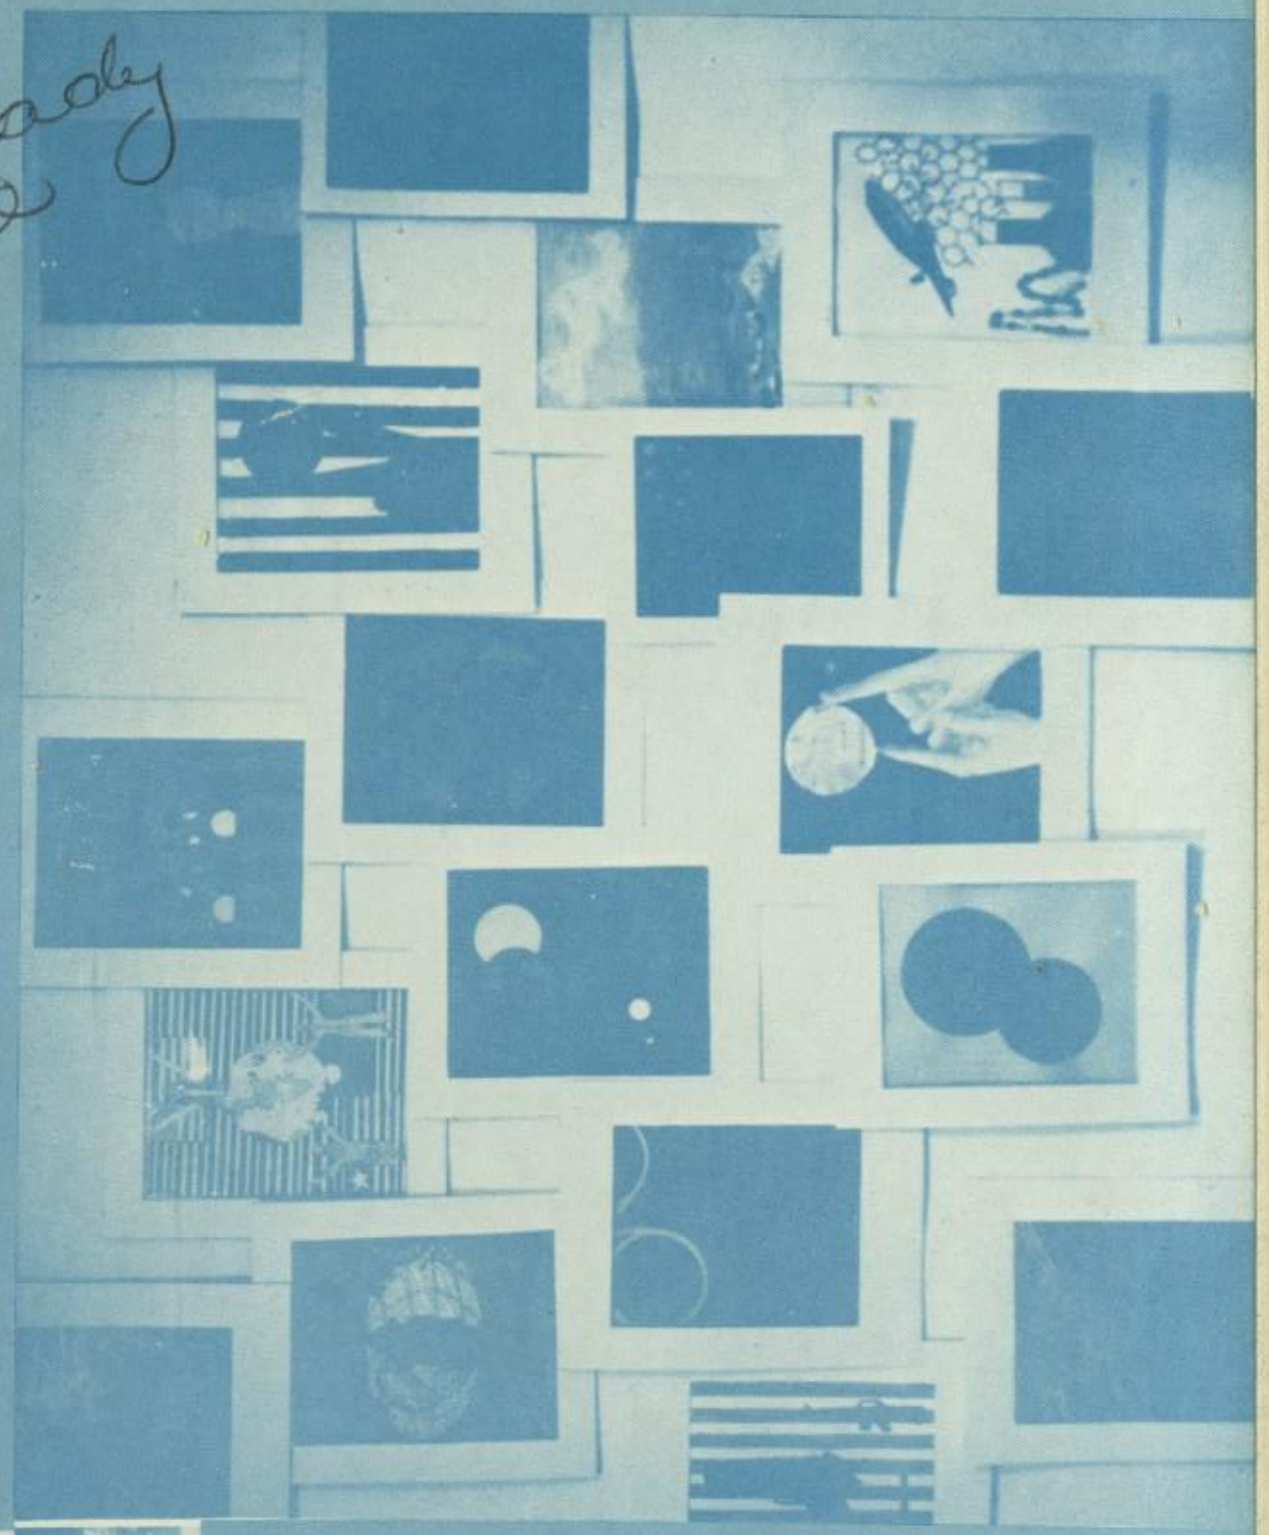
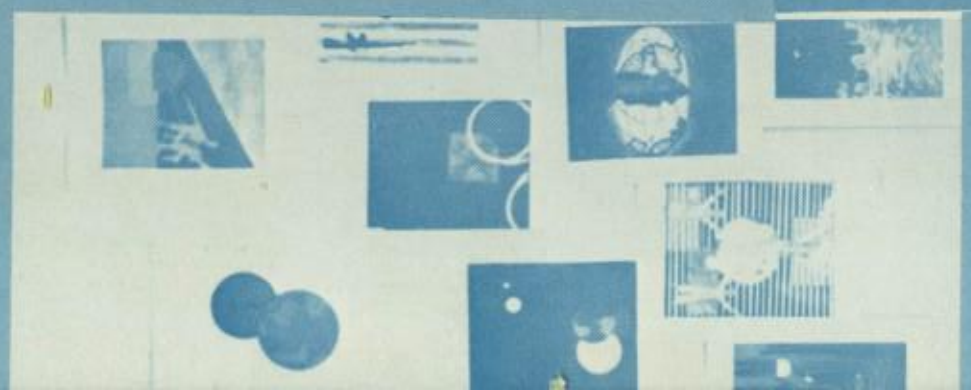
Hey Rob, I guess you're not a bad dude! Phil was sure right! Sure been a heck of a year! I'm just glad it's almost over! Gonna say anything about you-know-who!!!) Be good & don't make it in all you do!
Love ya Jerry!
Judy!

Pat, you don't know how glad I was to meet you this year. I really like you a lot. I wish I had met you earlier in the year. I'm sorry about the prom but there's still another year and enough time to have fun. I hope I'll get to see you this summer some time, at least dear from you. Stay sweet cute and cool cause you already have a real nice summer.

Luff ya a lot.




your friend
forever
